DEFICIENCY BILL CARRYING OVER TWO BILLION IS VOTED

FINAL VOTE MERE FORMALITY; RELIEF FUNDS CAUSE CONTROVERSY

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—The $2,364,229,712 deficiency bill carrying the administration's $1,425,000,000 work-relief appropriation for 1937 was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

Speaker Byrns announced the vote on passage wos 340 to 38.

The final vote was a mere formality, postponed by agreement after the house had approved provisions of the big measure last Friday.

Passage of the controversial measure by a heavy affirmative vote came after the house defeated by a vote Speaker Bryns announced at 286 to 90 a republican attempt to substitute stategrants for the Works Progress program.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—A republican effort to force substitution of state-grants for Works Progress administration handling of the $1,425,000,000 relief fund was rejected today by the house.

The ballot assured prompt passage of the $2,364,229,712 deficiency bill.

The vote was on a motion by Rep. Taber (R-NY) to send the big bill back to the appropriations committee with instructions to substitute his previously defeated amendment for state grants, with local administration by non-partisan boards and state contributions of at least 25 per cent.

The state-grant fight was scheduled to be renewed in the senate where the measure goes from the house.

Kerens Resident Seriously Hurt In Hunting Accident

Loyd Howell, aged 38 years, resident of the Kerens community, is in a serious condition at the P. and S. Hospital as a result of receiving gunshot wounds in an accident in the eastern section of the county early Sunday morning while squirrel hunting with Bill Frame.

A charge from a shotgun struck Howell in the head and eye, according to information received here Monday morning, with one shot entering the eye. An operation was performed Sunday at the hospital.

SELECTIVE SALES TAX FAVORED FOR NEW STATE REVENUE

WEST TEXAS CHAMBER COMMITTEE WOULD PROVIDE FOR PENSIONS, SCHOOLS

AMARILLO, May 11.—(AP)—A selective sales tax to provide revenues to discharge all legitimate old age pension obligations and provide funds for the school and general funds was approved today by the work committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 18th annual convention here today.

"We commend the general principles of the Small (state senator Clint Small) omnibus tax bill providing tax revenues be credited to the available school fund and to the general fund," the resolution read.

"The $13,000,000 of revenue which would be raised by the Small bill, together with other revenues, we regard as sufficient funds with which to provide some property tax relief, to maintain the $17.50 per capita school apportionment, to liquidate the state debt and to discharge all legitimate old age pension obligations.

"Levying of taxes more than those provided in the Small bill, we feel, will result in stagnating business and industry and cause additional unemployment."

The resolution, along with various others threshed out at the committee meeting headed by W. B. Hamilton of Wichita Falls, then went before the regional

OKLAHOMA BAD MAN WOUNDED IN FIGHT WITH LAW OFFICERS

NUMBER ONE DESPERADO IS CAPTURED AFTER SERIES DARING ROBBERIES

CANADIAN, May 11.—(AP)—Pete Traxler, Oklahoma badman saved only by a bullet-proof vest when posse bullets wounded him near here yesterday, remained alive today at a local hospital with a heavy guard at his bedside.

Traxler was shot down at a bridge over the Canadian river near here when he attempted to drive his automobile past a posse's barricade.

Physicians said Traxler would live unless complications develop. A bullet proof vest stopped bullets which would have killed him instantly, physicians said.

Sheriff Walter Jones of Hemphill county said no disposition of Traxler, wanted in Oklahoma for the slaying of two officers, would be made until it was determined whether he would recover.

Six officers worked in shifts standing guard by his bed.

Sheriff Jones said Traxler probably would be returned to Oklahoma if he survives.

The fugitive was wanted for questioning in the slaying of two officers in Oklahoma, for highway robbery at Clarendon, Texas, and for violation of the Dyer act in the eastern federal district of Oklahoma. He also is wanted for questioning at a number of Panhandle points in connection with a series of recent highway robberies.

The desperado fired twice with his shotgun at a posse of Texas officers whose burst of answering gunfire quickly cut him down, wounded three times in the left arm, once in the left leg and in the right wrist. His arm was shattered and officers said marks on a bullet-proof vest he was wearing indicated the armor had

FLOOD THREATS REPORTED FROM NORTHERN STATE AND TEXAS

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—A preview of summer's heat was interrupted today by cool breezes and heavy rains.

Torrential week-end showers, reached cloudburst proportions in some sections, raised flood threats in Texas. The downpour measured 4.45 inches at Houston. The Trinity river, transformed to a raging stream, swelled 28 feet within 48 hours near Palestine.

Lowlanders moved to higher ground at Robstown, Texas, after four inches of rain fell in an hour. The Neches river left its banks in the eastern part of Anderson county.

Heavy precipitation forced a further rise in the Mississippi along its northern stretches. Low territory in the vicinity of Aitkin, Minn., was inundated.

Thundershowers quickly terminated Sunday excursions for thousands of midwesterners. At Chicago the temperature dropped from a high of 83 to 61. More rain was forecast.

Moderate Sabbath weather prevailed from New York to Washington but abnormal heat was measured by a seasonal peak of 92 at Columbus, Ohio, 95 at the Cleveland airport and 89 at Detroit.

Readings in the 80's were reported from Monatna.

FLOOD DAMAGE IS FEARED FOLLOWING TORRENTIAL RAINS

TRINITY AND NECHES RIVER IN ANDERSON COUNTY BOTH AT FLOOD STAGE

HOUSTON, May 11—(AP)—Three men on a raft floating down the swollen Trinity river were unheard from today as floodwaters of the Trinity and Neches rivers moved toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Both rivers, fed by torrential rainfall attaining cloudburst proportions, rose steadily. The Neches was out of its banks and the Trinity, on a 28-foot rise, was expected to swell to 40 feet during the next 63 hours.

Relatives at Long Lake, near Palestine, received no word from Thomas Parker, Jr., George Herrington and James Etheridge, who set out from Cook's Ferry several days ago to float leisurely down the Trinity river to its mouth.

No anxiety was felt for the adventurous trio, despite their failure to advise relatives of their where abouts.

Fifty men started work on the Beaver creek bridge embankment on Highway No. 22 between Palestine and Cayuga, where high water washed away at least 100 feet of the structure. Highway authorities predicted the road, which connects Palestine with the Cayuga oil field, would be reopened to traffic Tuesday.

Torrential rains at Robstown, near Corpus Christi, sent residents of low-lying sections scurrying to places of safety and did considerable damage to crops in the rich vegetable growing region. The rain there totalled over five inches yesterday on top of a seven inch downpour Saturday.

While lowland residents south of Palestine eyed the flooded Trinity and Neches apprehensively, state highway department officials rushed repairs on bridges

COUNTY FINANCES EXHAUSTED REPORT AUDITOR INDICATES

ATTORNEY INSTRUCTED TO COLLECT COSTS DUE COUNTY IN DOUGLAS TRIAL

Discussions of ways and means of continuing the county financial operations are scheduled at the meeting of the commissioners' court Monday afternoon following the announcement by County Auditor J. M. Tullos at the session Monday morning that various funds are exhausted and the amounts set up in the budget for the year ending July 31, had been spent.

John R. Curington, criminal district attorney, was asked by the court to try to get the costs due Navarro county for the trial several years ago of Charlie Douglas here on a change of venue from Henderson county on a murder charge. Previous efforts to get the amount due have not been successful, it was stated.

A waiver was signed by the court in an injunction suit set for a hearing in the U. S. district court at Sherman, May 18, in which Henderson county levee improvement district No. 3 is involved. A portion of the district embraces Navarro county lands.

Tom Lindley, supervisor of the commodity department in District 5, Palestine, appeared before the court Monday in an effort to get an agreement toward trucking relief commodities into various sections of the county. The commissioners declined to make the appropriation after considerable discussion on the proposal.

Fred M. Allison Heads Corsicana Supply Company

A new commercial enterprise for this section of the state was announced recently with the organization of the Corsicana Supply Company, successors to Allison Motors, which will handle a complete line of oil field supplies and machinery.

"We will handle everything necessary for the production of oil," officials of the company reported. Headquarters and warehouses for the company will be located in the quarters formerly occupied by the motor firm on North Beaton street.

The company is chartered under the laws of Texas with a capital stock of $20,000 and is headed by Fred M. Allison, Corsicana producer and drilling contractor and one of the pioneers in the development of oil fields in the Southwest.

A complete stock of oil field supplies has been ordered and will be available within a few days. Notices have been received that some carload shipments are now en route.

ALLRED APPOINTS MARVIN HALL HEAD OF HIS CAMPAIGN

OPENING CAMPAIGN POSTPONED UNTIL CENTENNIAL STARTS BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, May 11.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred today appointed Marvin Hall of Austin as manager of his campaign for election to a second term but postponed official opening of the campaign until the middle of June.

Hall served during the past year as chief attorney for the state tax board. A former resident of Brownsville, where he was county attorney, Hall was one of the original organizers in 1932 of the Garner-for-president movement. He will open headquarters here soon.

Postponing opening his campaign Governor Allred said:

"All Texas is looking forward to the opening of our mammoth Centennial celebration June 6 at which President Roosevelt will officiate. In my judgment from now on we should all concentrate our thoughts and energies toward making the Centennial an outstanding

SECRETARY ICKES MAY TAKE STAND TO DEFEND POWER ACTS

HEARINGS ON INJUNCTIONS REOPENED MONDAY IN WASHINGTON COURT

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Jerome Frank, general counsel for the public works administration, said today Secretary Ickes probably would take the witness stand in the District of Columbia supreme court late this week to defend activities of PWA in financing municipal power projects.

He made the statement as Chief Alfred A. Wheat reopened hearings in five injunction suits, challenging the right of PWA to advance $2,444,000 to ten cities, located in Alabama, Texas, Oklahoma and Iowa. The consolidated cases were brought by the Alabama Power company, the Texas Utilities company, the Oklahoma Utilities company, and the Iowa Light and Power company, now supplying electricity to these communities.

Dan H. Wheeler, assistant director of the PWA projects division took the stand today to describe the organization of the public works administration and the procedure it follows in alloting funds for state and city projects.

Dean Acheson, former under secretary of the treasury and counsel for the power companies, said he would introduce evidence intended to prove that the PWA was unconstitutional and that it had no authority to advance money for the construction of municipal power projects. Acheson said his witnesses also would testify that PWA was illegally trying to regulate local power rates.

The trial, begun April 20, was postponed after one week of hearings because of the illness of Justice Wheat's wife. The power com-

MUSSOLINI ANNEXES ETHIOPIA AND SETS TROUBLE FOR LEAGUE

ITALIAN DICTATOR DECIDES UPON DEMOBILIZATION PART OF TROOPS

(By The Associated Press)

Benito Mussolini, his fascist empire proclaimed, moved today to make civilians out of soldiers once more.

He ordered partial demobilization of the principal classes he called to colors for Ethiopian war, just as the League of Nations council gathered for its 92nd session in an atmosphere of gathering bitterness and uncertainty.

Il Duce's annexation of Ethiopia and proclamation of his king as "emperor" of that beaten land made a desperate issue for Geneva.

Self-exiled Haile Selassie was protesting bitterly the dramatic annexation of Saturday night; Italy's envoys were hinting broadly they would bolt the league, rather than even talk about Ethiopia in the presence of the negus' representative.

A perplexed world watched the statesmen gathering at Geneva, faced by the question of whether to take action concerning Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

The Geneva delegates were to discuss many other problems beside the one brought about by the Italian occupation of Emperor Haile Selassie's capital and the annexation of the East African

ITALIAN DELEGATE REFUSES TO TREAT WITH ETHIOPIANS

ALL DISCUSSION OF ITALO-ETHIOPIAN DIFFERENCE DECLARED BE FUTILE

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
(Copyright, 1936, By Associated Press.)

GENEVA, May 11.—(AP)—Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italy's envoy to Geneva, walked out of a League of Nations private council session late today when the council took up the question of conquered Ethiopia.

Il Duce's representative announced that Italy could not negotiate in the presence of the "so-called delegate from Ethiopia."

Members of the council said later they were facing a most delicate problem.

Several told the Associated Press the only practical course seemed to be to condemn Italy's attitude and to adjourn any detailed discussion until June when a socialistic government is expected to be in power in France.

Apparently, they felt such a government would enable them to stiffen their attitude.

Baron Aloisi told the private session in a prepared speech:

"All discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian difference is futile."

Anthony Eden, Great Britain's foreign secretary who presided at the session, asked cooly whether "under the circumstances, the Italo-Ethiopian question should be kept on the agenda?"

To Retain Question.

Dr. Peter Munch of Denmark and Salvador De Madariaga of Spain quietly moved for its retention and the motion was passed without a dissenting voice.

Baron Aloisi and his co-delegates then sternly walked out: "This does not signify resignation from the League," the Italian envoy said.

His dramatic exit followed a bitter protest from Haile Selassie himself against Mussolini's annexation of the African kingdom, and Italian hints that Italy would bolt the League, rather than discuss Ethiopia in the presence of an agent of Selassie.

However, an Italian spokesman said Aloisi merely was leaving the council on this particular occasion, and that his action did not mean the Fascist state was resigning from the League.

The baron departed with his entire delegation. One member of

Wholesale Theft Of Automobiles Fairfield Fails

FAIRFIELD, May 11.—(Spl.)—What appeared to be an attempt at wholesale theft of automobiles and trucks was frustrated by officers here early Monday morning. A woman about 22 years of age was apprehended by Nightwatchman Jim Wasson at 2 o'clock Monday morning and a car thought to have been stolen in Reeves county was recovered. The woman was placed in jail and efforts are being made to find a companion who was reported to have escaped.

A Buick sedan belonging to B. Daniel was abandoned about 7 miles south of Fairfield when it ran out of gas. A Chevrolet sedan belinging to J. C. Richardson was abandoned in the city limits when it ran into a ditch. Attempts were made to take two trucks belonging to Holt Richardson, a sedan belonging to Joe Green and a small truck belonging to Frank Williamson and a car belonging to L. W. Sheffield, but in each instance the thief was frightened away before he could get the cars started. One man was chased into a field by Sheriff Jim Sessions, but he escaped into a dense wood.

Officers here are of the opinion that a group of thieves came here for the purpose of taking several cars at one time.

OUTCOME OF OHIO PRIMARY IS AWAITED WITH MUCH INTEREST BY LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Ohio's primary battleground—to which observers looked for further possible indications of middle-western voting trend—was sharply watched by leaders today on the eve of what officials of the Buckeye state expected would be record balloting.

Senator Borah of Idaho contests with Robert A. Taft, "favorite son" entry backed by the Republican state organization, for delegates to the republican national convention at Cleveland.

On the democratic side, Colonel Henry Breckinridge of New York is opposing President Roosevelt for the Presidential preference vote, but is not entered in the separate balloting for delegates to the democratic convention.

Addressing a rally of the National Union for Social Justice, last night, Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest, declared that congressional candidates who are endorsed by the union "will take half of Ohio" in tomorrow's primary.

Charge Fraud In Illinois.

As Borah wound up his Ohio campaign, Edgar J. Cook, the senator's manager in the Illinois primary last month, said he had talked with Governor Henry Horner regarding charges of fraud in the Illinois vote.

Cook said he had turned over to prosecutors information designed to show that "if there had been an honest vote," Colonel Frank Knox would have won "by only 50,000 votes," instead of nearly 75,000. He added quickly that Knox was "to fine a man" to have any knowledge of the alleged frauds, "direct or indirect."

Knox declared talk of fraud was a "contemptible attempt to smear me."

"I won clearly and without the use of money," he said. "I spent

SALONIKA STRIKERS DEFY ORDERS CEASE BUSINESS TIE-UPS

SHORTAGE OF BREAD AND OTHER FOODSTUFFS REPORTED; WARSHIPS SENT

By ALEXANDER SEDGWICK
Associated Press Foreign Staff

ATHENS, May 11.—Salonika's stubborn strikers defied military orders and forced a shortage of bread and other foodstuffs today.

While four Greek warships sped to the troubled area, the strikers flouted District Commander General Zeppo's decree that they halt business tie-ups."

Lightning and traffic services were operating only intermittently.

Troops, reinforced by soldiers from the provinces, broke up a Salonika strikers' meeting and warded off attacks by firing blank cartridges.

Rifles also were used in the suburb of Toumba to disperse a workers' meeting and in another part of the city to drive off a crowd of strikers who, armed with clubs, stoned a police station, smashing the windows.

A wholesale roudup of labor leaders and members of the strike committee was begun.

Representatives of the various political parties decided to ask the government to consider the strikers' demands, meanwhile asking the strikers to go back to work.

GENERAL RAINS AND ENSUING SUNSHINE HAVE PUT FARMERS OF NAVARRO COUNTY HAPPY MOOD

Two days of rain and cloudy weather followed by the bright sunshine of Sunday and Monday served to keep the farmers of Navarro county in high spirits. The rains, general over the county, Friday afternoon and night and Saturday afternoon and night amounted to an average of about 2.25 inches for the 48 hour period. In the city of Corsicana the rainfall for that period was 2.21 inches, .90 of an inch Saturday morning and 1.31 Sunday morning. The guage at the city lake registered 1.14 inches Saturday morning and 1.33 Sunday morning for total of 2.77 inches. Dawson reported 1.40 Saturday morning and 1.32 Sunday, a total of 2.42 inches. DEMOBILIZATION OF PART ITALIAN ARMY IS ORDERED MONDAY

ORDER TAKEN TO INDICATE MUSSOLINI FEELS NO FEARS FOR FUTURE

By A. E. STUNTZ
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, May 11.—(AP)—The Italian war department today ordered the partial demobilization of the military classes of 1911 and 1913—the principal classes for the war against Ethiopia.

Their demobilization was interpreted as meaning:

1. The war is definitely over in East Africa and no more men need be sent there;

2. Premier Mussolini does not believe any complications will arise in Europe as a result of his annexation of Ethiopia.

The demobilization order applies to that portion of the two classes in barracks in Italy, not those in East Africa.

The class of 1914 was left under arms for eventual replacement in East Africa. The classes of 1911 and 1913 will be sent to their homes gradually in groups of from 500 to 1,000.

The military order calls for the sending of these two classes into "unlimited vacation in expectation of definite retirement." In military circles, ths was described as demobilization.

The class of 1912 was not affected by the order because only its speccialized sections were called up for service.

ELEVEN STATES ARE LISTED AS HAVING LOST IN POPULATION; NATION GAINS FIVE MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—A statistical picture of America's population shifts was presented today by the census bureau, which estimated that while many states have made gains in the past five year, 11 have fewer residents than in 1930.

From 1930 to 1935, the population of the country gained from 122,775,046 to an estimated 127,521,000 or nearly 5,000,000.

These figures for the whole country, published some time ago, were broken down today by the census bureau to show figures for individual states and the District of Columbia.

The District of Columbia led all states in percentage gain during the period, which saw an increase in the number of government workers. The district's population for 1935 was estimated at 594,000, a gain of 107,131 since 1930, or 22 per cent.

"New York, with 12,889,000 persons as compared to 12,588,066 in 1930, remained the nation's largest state. Pennsylvania was second with 10,966,000 as compared with 9,631,000 and Illinois third with 7,817,000 as compared to 7,630,000."

The 11 states which lost through population shifts, and the estimated percentage of loss are: Michigan, 3.7; Wisconsin, 1.1; South Dakota, 2.6; Rhode Island, .9; Nebraska, 1.9; Kansas, 1.9; Mississippi, 2.4; Montana, 1.2; New Mexico, 5.0; Arizona, 11.4; and California, 0.7.

Among the states which gained the most during the period were South Carolina, 15.7 per cent; Georgia, 15; Florida, 9.9 and Tennessee, 11.

FOUNDER OF LIONS CLUBS VISITING AT TEXAS CONVENTIONS

Melvin Jones, founder and present secretary general of the International Association of Lions Clubs, will visit two Lions conventions in Texas during the Centennial year. He is attending the convention of Central and Southeastern Lions Club at Victoria today, where he will be the principal speaker at the grand banquet and ball, and from there will go to Mexia to address the Lions of Northeastern Texas on the 13th. Mr. Jones expects to visit the Exposition in Dallas on his return from the Mexia convention.

The Victoria Lions Club included in its convention program a trip to nearby historic sites. A motorcade of delegates will travel to Goliad from Victoria to the site where on March 27, 1836, nearly every Texan who had fallen into the hands of the Mexican army, including Colonel James W. Fannin, was marched out and shot. Nearby is the famous La Bahia Mission which the Lions will also visit.

Both Victoria and Mexia are including special Centennial celebrations in their program, and are urging the delegates to visit the Dallas Exposition.

Funeral services were held in Streetman Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Vera McKissack, aged 33 years, wife of Gilbert McKissack, 520 North Main street, who died in the Navarro Clinic Sunday morning at 3:30 o'clock from injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Highway 75.

Mrs. McKissack was fatally injured about 2:30 o'clock when the car in which she was riding hit a soft shoulder on the highway one mile south of Rice and turned over. The car was owned by Bill French of Corsicana, who was driving.

Mrs. Frank Garrett of Tyler, formerly Miss Jessie McKissack of Corsicana, received numerous bruises, abrasions and suffered considerable shock, but is not regarded as seriously injured.

McKissack and French escaped with only minor injuries. The party were en route to Corsicana from Dallas at the time of the accident, it was reported.

Mrs. McKissack's death is the fourth automobile fatality within Navarro county this year.

The automobile was reported demolished.

The funeral rites were held from the Streetman Baptist church, with interment in the Birdston cemetery. Rev. Shaddix, Baptist minister, conducted the services.

Surviving are her husband, Corsicana; mother, Mrs. J. A. Thompson, Streetman; four sisters, Mrs. Walter Owens, Streetman; Mrs. John Lee, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Pope Echols, New Mexico, and Mrs. Joe Oliver, Streetman; and three brothers, Jack Thompson, Joe Thompson and Dewey Thompson, all of Streetman.

West Virginia Primary.

Factional struggles feature tomorrow's West Virginia primary. The presidential vote was pushed to the background by a split between the two democratic senators, M. M. Neely and Rush D. Holt. Neely seeks renomination, while Holt supports Ralph M. Hiner, former speaker of the state house of delegates. There also is a fight for state leadership of the republican party.

In the democratic presidential primary Joseph A. Coutremarsh of New Hampshire is entered against President Roosevelt, but all the democratic candidates for delegates have announced they will support Mr. Roosevelt. The names of Borah and Leo J. ITALY

The demobilization will mean a reduction in the huge expense Italy has undertaken in keeping under arms a great military force not only in East Africa but also in Italy.

The new Roman empire moved its big political guns up to the European front today with an admonition to the League of Nations council, meeting in Geneva, to keep "hands off" Ethiopia.

Feels Right to Hold Ethiopia.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Premier Mussolini's Geneva spokesman, was instructed to make it clear that Italy believed it had juridicial as well as military right to its hold on the annexed East African empire.

Informed Fascist sources said Italy wanted peace—but peace compatible with the designs of the new empire—and had assured its neighbors it did not want to carry the Ethiopian question into European politics.

Fascists said Baron Aloisi would accompany the accomplished fact of military occupation with the argument before the league that Italy's juridical right to Ethiopia was established clearly by the flight of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Hope prevailed that the league council session would show the futility of sanctions and the desirability of having Italy enter again into collaboration for European peace.

POISONOUS SPIDERS BITE AS DISTURBED; HOW TO KILL THEM

AUSTIN, May 11.—(Spl.)—The "Black Widow" spider continues to be a menace even though the number of persons bitten is comparatively small, according to morbidity reports received by the State Department of Health. The habit of this spider in building its web in dimly lighted places makes it difficult to establish any effective method of control.

Though the "Black Widow" is frequently found in basements, wood sheds, and other places which have dark corners or recesses, more cases of spider poisoning that have been reported in past years have occurred in old toilets in the rural districts. The spraying of creosote in cracks and crevices, particularly around the seats of old toilets, is an invaluable procedure but precautions must be taken against fire. The egg cocoon may also be crushed.

The adult female spider is about an inch long and has a shiny black body with a brilliant scarlet hourglass marking on the under surface. The name, "Black Widow" is derived from the fact that the female kills and eats the male after mating.

The web of the "Black Widow" is characterized by the fact that the strands are tough. If a straw is applied to the web of an ordinary house spider, the web will immediately break, but if a straw be stroked through a "Black Widow" web, the stands will be found to be so tough that the straw will bend or even break. The female spider stays close to her web but will rush out and attack violently any object disturbing this web.

The "Black Widow" is not an aggressive spider, and rarely bites unless disturbed. Acute pain develops in the region of the surface bitten, spreading to other parts of the body. There is a general muscle contraction, difficult breathing, cold perspiration, nausea and an extreme rigidity of the abdomen.

The general public should be taught to recognize the "Black Widow," to take the necessary precautions, and to consult a physician immediately, if bitten.

Included in the posse were Harry Rathpen, deputy sheriff of Hemphill county, who fired eight shots; Everett Tarbox, city marshal of Higgins, Texas; Jerry Ramsey, sheriff of Roberts county, Texas; Everett Shahan, sheriff of Lipscomb county, Texas.

A miniature aresenal, including another bullet-proof vest, a rifle, shotgun and ammunition was found in the car which Traxler was driving.

The desperado was caught in a network of Texas and Oklahoma officers, closing in on a region east of here by pre-arrangement. Over 100 officers took part in the manhunt.

To Be Questioned in Slaying.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Mayy 1.—(AP)—Oklahoma crime bureau operatives left today for Canadian, Texas, to return Pete Traxler, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, for questioning in the slaying last May of George Loper, Pauls Valley night watchman.

Traxler was captured near Canadian, Texas, yesterday after a gun fight with officers.

"Sheriff Walter Jones of Canadian advised me that as far as he knew, Traxler was not wanted by Texas and would be turned over to Oklahoma," Colonel Charles W. Daley, crime bureau chief, said.

Three operatives were sent to Canadian to take charge of Traxler, who is in a hospital there.

"Traxler will be moved to the Oklahoma penitentiary for safekeeping as soon as we are able to move him," Daley said.

chamber directors at their noon luncheon.

Registrations of the hundreds of delegates pouring into Amarillo from the vast region covered by the West Texas chamber—virtually two-thirds of Texas, occupied most of the morning.

An Attendance Basis.

The work committee also went on record as favoring allocation of school funds on an attendance basis, instead of census figures. It was claimed that the existing census system penalized West Texas, which was said to have a much higher attendance record in its schools thhan some other parts of the state.

The claim was made that West Texas schools actually are getting about $15 per capita for schools, while other sections, with more population but poorer school attendance, sometimes received as much as $28 or $30 per capita.

Another resolution adopted by the committee strongly opposed any increase in the gasoline tax rate, which the committee said had "gotten to be a burden on the industry and was cutting down consumption of one of our main commodities."

Another section of this resolution opposed any change in the selective system of making up the state highway commission.

Governor James V. Allred, honor guest at tonight's banquet, had planned to fly here around noon in a special plane but was unable to get away from Houston, where he has been attending a labor conference, and will not reach Amarillo until about 7 p. m., on the regular commercial plane.

AMARILLO, May 11.—(AP)—Registration of hundreds of delegates occupied West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials today as preliminaries to the organization's annual convention were disposed of in preparation for the first general assembly tomorrow.

Ray N. Nichols, Vernon publisher and president of the WTCC, predicted the largest attendance in years as special trains and busses rolled into town loaded with delegates. The first special to arrive brought 200 from Brownwood.

Other specials, from Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, were due today and Dallas' special, bearing a large and Centennial conscious delegation, was due tomorrow. The theme of this year's convention is the importance of the Centennial to West Texas.

President Nichols, among the earliest arrivals, announced his recommendations for three awards to be made at the first general session, as follows:

B. Reagan of Big Spring, as outstanding director.

J. H. Green of Colorado, as most valuable chamber of commerce secretary.

Sanderson as the best membership town. Joe Kerr is the WTCC director in Sanderson.

D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the organization announcedthat while the Centennial will be stressed, the convention will devote much of its time to a study of tax problems.

"The best we can hope for in this direction is a readjustment of taxation in the interest of equity and the development of our resources which will increase our ability to pay," he said.

Outstanding events on today's program include a director's meeting, a luncheon and a dinner honoring Gov. James V. Allred.

EXPECT COMPLETION SOIL CONSERVATION SIGNUPS BY FRIDAY

NEW RULINGS HAVE BEEN REPORTED TO COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Navarro county committeemen engaged on the singing-up of producers for the new soil conservation program were reported spurring their efforts Monday to complete the campaign by the announced deadline of May 15, Friday.

County Agent C. C. Morris, Chairman J. K. Hawthorn of the county central committee, and other officials have asked the cooperation of all producers in completing the work by the announced date. Worksheets which form the basis of the new program may be filled out at the office of the county agent in the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce building in Corsicana only. The office was filled by prospective qualifiers Monday as the final week of the sign-up drive opened.

The following recent rulings were reported by the county agent:

Two rows of corn or grain sorghums interplanted with one row of peas or legumes will be counted as two-third depleting and one-third conserving.

Sudan grass is termed as a conserving crop regardless of its use; it can be harvested for hay or seed, pastured or grazed, or left on the land.

Oats if harvested, must be followed by a summer legume, and every effort must be made to complete a legume crop.

Black-eyed peas are classed as cowpeas; if harvested for canning or processing, they are regarded as a commercial truck crop; however they may be used for the family food or feed crop.

There can be no use of the diverted acres for commercial purposes.

Governor Allred said he appointed a campaign manager now "due to thousands of letters I have had from my friends throughout the state, who have expressed a desire to know of my plans for a second term." He said Dr. J. T. Lawson of Bowie, his old friend and family physician, had made the first campaign contribution, $25.

Farmers say that there is now plenty of moisture to do for some time and that they would like some fair weather in order that they might finish planting cotton and some feed crops.

Cotton that had been planted last week is expected to come up quickly in most sections. Some cotton on lands there were washed will probably have to be replanted but the per centage will be small, farmers think.

MUCH SPECIAL MAIL DELIVERED SUNDAY BY LOCAL POSTOFFICE

A new high in special delivery letters and parcels on Mothers' Day since 1928 was reported at the Corsicana postoffice by Hugh Loper, assistant postmaster. Messengers delivered a total of 267 pieces of special delivery mail yesterday, which was outnumbered in 1928 by 243 pieces, Mr. Loper said.

Yesterday, 180 letters and 87 other pieces, including parcels, were distributed to Corsicana addresses, while in 1928 there were 292 letters and 51 parcels.

Other figures since 1928 include the following: 1929, 167; 1930, 203; 1931, 173; 1932, 160, and 1933, 227.

Mr. Loper said the heaviest times of the year for special deliveries are Mothers' Day and Christmas, but the former usually outdoes the latter.

NEGRO SENTENCED TO DEATH IN DEATH MERKEL OFFICER

ABILENE, May 11.—(AP)—Lonnie Mitchell, negro cafe operator, was under sentence of death today for the slaying of Chester C. Hutcheson, Merkel city marshal, who was shot down at Mitchell's place in that town a month ago.

A district court jury returned the verdict yesterday, 25 hours after receiving the case. It had deliberated only a few hours, however, having retired early Saturday night.

Mitchell pleaded self-defense and attempted to establish unlawful attack by an officer of the law.

DRIVING WIND AND RAINSTORM LEAVE SIX DEAD SATURDAY

REMOTE FARMING COMMUNITIES OF EAST TEXAS AND ARKANSAS HARD HIT

TYLER, May 9.—(AP)—Tornadoes and driving rain storms left six persons dead and many injured in East Texas and Arkansas today.

Remote farming communities and small towns were hit hardest and reports trickling in added steady to the casualty list and property damage.

The latest victim reported was Joy Merrison, 20, of Trenton, killed when he picked up an electrified wire blown down by a tornado which lashed the Bonham area. Morrison was trying to get the wire out of the way.

A number of school childdren had passed over the wire before Morrison came along but none had touched it.

Tornadic winds ripped into Dilworth and Lone oak communities, near Horatio, Ark., killing Mrs. Sid Orr, 44, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Tom Orr, 81.

The twister left several others injured as it cut a path a quarter of a mile wide and five miles long through the region.

To the West, Omaha and Lindale, Texas, were wrecked by violent winds which injured Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Story critically at Omaha. They were blown across a highway and their home furnishings were strewn a mile away.

During the night W. R. McDaniel, 85, was killed and his wife badly injured in a tornado at Bonham, Texas. Mrs. John Jernigan of Dallas was slightly hurt.

Lightning killed F. W. Gaeggli, 50, San Antonio hospital patient, as he fished on the bank of a stream.

Sam Corley, 45, died in his wrecked car as it skidded from an Olney highway during the storm.

Rainfall at Tyler amounted to 6.70 inches and was still pouring down steadily. Small streams were flooded but there was little damage as yet. Striking near the Tyler airport, the storm uprooted trees and tore down barns.

The tornado hitting Lindale destroyed a number of houses, injuring several persons. Omaha likewise had numerous houses ruined.

Injured Near Lindale

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Wells, narrowly escaped death when struck by flying timber at Wood Springs, three miles south of Lindale. Wells' back was bruised.

Mrs. B. E. Brown, wife of the Wood Springs school bus driver, was cut on the arm from flying glass. Several other residents of the section were hurt less seriously.

A school and a church and about ten wooden houses were damaged at Lindale. A seven-room residence was blown 30 feet from its foundations.

The deluge of rain washed through the corn, cotton and berry fields, doing extensive damage.

The tornado also hit the Mount Sylvan section, near Van, causing more destruction.

Crop damage and washouts of bridges ad roads were reported, however, from other sections of East Texas. At LaRue and Poyner in Henderson county trains on two railroad lines were reported delayed on account of washouts.

Early reports from farmers did not indicate land was sufficiently washed by the downpours to ruin crops.

Longview reported a rain of 2.87 inches.

Two Communities In Arkansas Are Struck

HORATIO, Ark., May 9.—(AP)—A tornado struck the Dilworth and Lone Oak communities five miles east of Horatio today, killing two persons, seriously injuring another and destroying fifteen farm homes.

Reports also reached here that the tornadic winds had swept through nearby Omaha, Texas, at approximately the same time, seriously injuring two persons there, and causing property damage roughly estimated at $5,000.

Those killed near Horatio were Mrs. Sid Orr, 44, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Tom Orr, 81, who were crushed to death in the debris of their collapsing home.

A Mrs. Orr, ill in the house, was gravely injured. Lesser injuries were sustained by several other persons in the two communities.

The twister followed a path five miles long and about a quarter of a mile wide.

The storm struck around 2 a. m. and County Judge O. Kolb and works progress administration officials who went into the area and later returned here said they would seek outside assistance for the communities. In addition to the human casualties, they said a large number of livestock had been killed.

The reports from Omaha, Texas, said the high winds came out of the southwest. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Story, whose new home was demolished, were being treated there for bruises and shock. A part of their furniture and clothing was reported to have been found more than a mile from the wreckage of the house.

The Storys were found injured on top of a nearby house roof and Mrs. Story said she and her husband had been blown completely across the highway in front of their home.

The disturbances in this vicinity followed by several hours similar disturbances in northeastern Texas and eastern Oklahoma which killed at least one person and left 30 others injured.

Tornado Hits Omaha.

OMAHA, Texas, May 9.—(AP)—Tornadic winds roared out of the southwest early today and swept through this little East Texas town, seriously injuring at least two persons and causing property damage in excess of $5,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Story, whose new home was demolished by the twister, were painfully cut and bruised and were suffering from shock as well.

Pieces of their furniture and clothing were found more than a mile from their wrecked house.

Mrs. Story said she and her husband were blown across the highway in front of their home. They were found lying on the house roof.

Maine Farm Hand Admits Murder of Two Little Girls

WATERVILLE, Me., May 9.—(AP)—James H. Folsom, 35-year old Skowhegan farm hand, who Sheriff Henry E. Burnell of Portland said confessed assaulting and killing two little girls, pointed out to police officers today the scene of the crime here and a previous one in nearby Fairfield.

Sergeant Harold K. Maguire of the Portland police, acting as a special investigator for the attorney general's office, said Folsom led the officers to an alder clump along Messalonskee stream where the body of Mary Proulx, 7, was found Tuesday.

Maguire said he later pointed out where the body of Annie K. Knights, 12, of Fairfield was found. The Knights girl was strangled and criminally attacked Oct. 7, 1935. Her body was found in an alder clump, also.

Sheriff Burnell said Folsom, a paroled convict, had admitted both crimes. The girls were strangled, their wrists bound with twine and criminally attacked.

Folsom was arrested last night at a West Cumberland farm, where he had worked since Tuesday.

Burnell said Folsom finally wrote a confession after hearing a letter from his mother in which she pleaded with him to come home.

APPROXIMATELY AN INCH OF RAINFALL IN NAVARRO COUNTY

GOOD RAINS REPORTED IN EVERY SECTION COUNTY; BENEFITS CROPS

Rain averaging about one inch fell over Navarro county Friday afternoon and night. There was no hail or wind with the rain and no damage has been reported from any section of the county.

Most of the rain fell in the afternoon. The rain gauge at the city lake recorded .90 of an inch rain for the afternoon and .24 of an inch during the night. At Dawson .80 of an inch was recorded in the afternoon and .30 during the night. The local government rain gauge recorded .90 of an inch for the 24 hour period ending at 7 o'clock. Kerens had one inch rainfall over a like period with most of the rain falling in the afternoon.

Rice, Emhouse, Barry, Blooming Grove, Frost, Purdon, Eureka, Angus, Richland Roane Chatfield Powell and other communities reported a good rain. No gauges were available in those communities but indications were that the rain was about the same as in other sections of the county.

Farm work which had been going at full speed all the week will be delayed until Monday if there is no more rain. Cotton planted during the week will come up quickly as the rain fell slowly and did not pack the ground.

The rain will keep corn and oats growing. It will also put land in excellent condition for further planting of cotton and feed crops.

A few more rains like the ones during the past two weeks and there will be plenty of sub-soil moisture to carry cotton through the usual dry weather in July and August and will also insure a fair corn and oat crop. Other feed crops including maize, hegari and sorghums will be given a good start.

Shrubs, flowers and lawns in the cities were also benefitted and the owners relieved of further watering for several more days.

COTTON PRODUCERS SLOW IN FILINGS FACE CHECK DELAY

Navarro county cotton producers who have sold their 1935 staple and have not yet filed their applications for cotton adjustment payments will face indefinite delay in getting their vouchers unless their papers are filed on or before May 15, according to information received by County Agent C. C. Morris.

State board officials have informed local officials that every effort is being made to complete the present phase of the subsidy payments before the detail work of the new program is started and that unless the applications for the subsidy are made within the next few days, considerable delay will be encountered.

The applications should cover all cotton sold prior to May 15, and may be made at the office of the county agent in Corsicana.

Two Local Hospitals To Observe National Hospital Day May 12

Two Corsicana hospitals, the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic and the Navarro Clinic, will observe National Hospital Day, Tuesday, May 12, it was announced Monday afternoon.

The Corsicana Hospital and Clinic will have open house from 3 o'clock until 5 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited to call between those hours.

The Navarro Clinic will observe the day with its annual homecoming party, from 3:30 o'clock until 5 o'clock for children born at the Clinic, and their mothers.

FLOYDADA, May 11.—(AP)—Shot in the back, D. J. Bennett, 35, formerly of Childress, was killed instantly in the home of J. V. Baxter, a blacksmith, here last night.

Baxter, who employed Bennett in his blacksmith shop, surrendered to Sheriff E. S. Randerson, saying his wife had been "insulted."

BLIZZARD MAROONED MOTORISTS RESCUED FROM RATON PASS

MORE THAN 150 PERSONS FINALLY TAKEN TO PLACES OF SAFETY EARLY TODAY

RATON, N. M., May 9.—(AP)—A passenger bus carrying 38 persons was caught in a snowbank this morning when it attempted to negotiate the snow-covered Raton Pass highway where 150 persons were marooned Thursday night and yesterday.

Highway workers reported the vehicle skidded from a slippery shoulder into a snow bank. They said it was expected to be released shortly. No one was hurt.

All of those who spent a frightening and uncomfortable night and day snowbound on the rugged pass were safe.

Rescue crews, fighting their way behind snowplows through a fall which threatened momentarily to close the road behind them, released all of the stranded persons late yesterday, little the worse for their experience.

Many motorists, and the passengers of two big transcontinental buses were returned here. Others were taken to Trinidad, Colo., 16 miles north, on the other side of the 7,866-foot summit.

Hotels, homes and tourist camps were filled with the rescued. Automobiles, trucks and two buses on the Raton side of the pass were abandoned in the drifts.

The highway was closed to general traffic but state police and highway workers maintained a constant patrol in an effort to keep the route open through the night.

The last to be brought out were a score of motorists who took refuge in a campground near the summit of the pass. State police earlier removed the nearly 50 passengers of the buses, while motorists gained safety on foot, or caught rides with returning workers.

Police performed an unexpected errand of mercy when they found three persons in their cabin home, burning furinture to keep warm.

Police took fuel to the place and the three, W. Larberg, his wife and her sister, Viola Progan, remained in the cabin.

Some of those rescued had been caught in the suddenly swirling drifts early Thursday night, and spent nearly 24 hours without food, water or heat. The cold, however, was not intense.

REDUCTION PLANNED IN PWA STAFFS DUE TO HOUSE ACTION

FAILURE TO EARMARK ANY RELIEF FUNDS EXPECTED CAUSE BIG CUT

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—First steps toward a 25 per cent cut in the PWA administrative staff were taken by Secretary Ickes today after the house failed to earmark any of the proposed $1,425,000,000 work relief appropriation for a new public works program.

An order directed PWA division heads both in Washington and the field to prepare lists of employes to be dropped, and at the same time forbade any further pay increases.

Officials explained that the order, which followed victory of administration forces over a house PWA bloc and paved the way for house passage on Monday of the deficiency bill containing the new PWA appropiration, would not be carried out immediately. The lists, which are to cover employes of both PWA and the PWA housing division—also left without further funds—are to be submitted immediately, however.

The PWA administrative staff totals 9,000, including 3,000 in Washington. The housing division employs 1,000 persons.

Driving toward early passage of the deficiency-relief measure, the administration high command yesterday accepted amendments requiring payment of prevailing wages on the new WPA program and barring aliens who entered illegally from WPA jobs.

After Monday's house vite, the deficiency bill with its relief issue will go to the senate.

In rapid-fire action late yesterday, Republicans lost in efforts to substitute a system of federal grants to states for WPA, and a bloc led by Democrats was stymied in its drive to earmark $700,000,000 for Secretary Ickes' PWA.

An amendment wanted by union labor passed. In a surprise move the appropirations committee accepted and the houes approved by a voice vote, an amendment by Rep. Connery (D-Mass.) requiring payment of prevailing wages on works progress administration projects. Minally, the house adopted, 136 to 19, an amendment backed by both Republicans and Democrats to require the WPA to bar fro mits rolls aliens known to be in the country illegally.

Also approved without opposition, was an amendment by Rep. Lanham (D-Texas) to permit persons who have not hitherto been o ndirect relief (dole) rolls to obtain work relief under the new funds.

Convict Seriously Stabbed Sunday On Eastham Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE, May 11.—(AP)—Hubert Woodall, convict building tender at the Eastham prison farm, was in a serious condition from stab wounds today following an affray at the farm barracks yesterday.

Jack Ellingson, general manager of the prison system, said two other convicts were held for questioning. Farm officials told him that Woodall was attacked as the convicts lined up outside the barracks for the noon meal.

Ellingson sought a possible motive for the attack. Farm officials told him that Woodall, who is serving an eight-year sentence for burglary and robbery from Cherokee county, was held by one convict while another hacked at him with a home-made dirk.

Homecoming Program Featuring Mrs. Cole Delightful Affair

The Corsicana Music and Speech Arts Teachers' Association presented Mrs. Sarah Cole in a "home coming" program of original compositions Sunday afternoon, May 10, in Carnegie auditorium.

Mrs. Cole was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Brownie Cole Munroe of Wortham and her choir of 16 voices, and by Mrs. J. G. Register of Dallas in making this entertainment the success that it was.

On behalf of the Corsicana Music and Speech Arts Association, Mrs. M. S. Dockum, in a few well chosen and appropriate remarks presented Mrs. Cole and expressed the appreciation of the association for her part in setting the high standard in the musical art of Corsicana, and presented a basket of flowers as a token of appreciation.

Beauford Jester, representing the former pupils of Mrs. Cole, paid tribute, not only to her talent as a music teacher, but to her womanly virtues and her outstanding personality. He presented her with a handsome purse, given by her former pupils as a love gift. In mentioning those pupils of hers who had "carried on" Mr. Jester named several presidents of the Nevin Club who had been her pupils, Miss Dorothy Drane, Miss Edna Webb and Mrs. Lynne Fortham. Miss Margaret Lowery and Emmy Neil Stroud were also mentioned as others who had made a success.

Mrs. Cole Responds.

Mrs. Cole responded, expressing her happiness at being with her former pupils, friends and associates, and closed with a very fitting little poem.

Mrs. Munroe sang "Only One Mother," and on behalf of the family, paid tribute to her mother, and Mrs. J. G. Register brought greetings from the Cecelian Club of Dallas.

The following program was given:

Processional, Mrs. Sarah Cole; One Hundred Seventeeth Psalm—Choir.

"Forever With the Lord" by Mrs. J. G. Register.

"One Hundred Fifteenth Psalm"—Ladies' Three Part Chorus.

"Crossing the Bar" and "Some One Had Prayed"—Mrs Brownie Cole Munroe.

"One Hundred Forty-Eighth Psalm"—Choir.

"Only One Mother" and "A New Commandment" — Brownie Cole Muroe.

"Fourth Psalm"—Ladies' Three Part Chorus.

"Lullaby" and "A Prayer"—Mrs. J. G. Register.

"The Texas State Hymn"—Choir.

Personnel of Choir.

The following is the personnel of the choir: Mesdames J. G. Register, Ira Seale, Wade Odom, Dick Wimberly, Oliver Bounds, Vera Hearne, W. L. Garrett, John Munroe; Misses Emma and Iona Smith and Messrs. Elmo Bounds, J. S. Summers, Jeff Murphy and J. F. Watts and T. S. Ogle and Dr. T. W. Horn.

It will be of interest to the musicians of Corsicana to learn that Mrs. Cole was instrumental in the organization of the first music club in Corsicana, which later became the Nevin Club and that she was a charter member of that club.

Mrs. Estelle Skelton was chairman of the committee on arrangements for this entertainment and was assisted by Mrs. Senor-Slade and Miss Mabel Bonner, all of whom deserve much credit for the success of this splendid affair.

A large bouquet of flowers which adorned the piano was given by Miss Mabel Bonner, and another bouquet on the table which held the register book was arranged by Mrs. Skelton.

Mrs. Lynne Wortham presided over the register book, which will contain the names of the friends and at least 50 names of Mrs. Coles former pupils.

Many out of town guests were here for this delightful occasion.

Emhouse PTA Met In Regular Session On Thursday Afternoon

The Emhouse P. T. A. met in regular session at the high schol May 7. Miss Ross, teacher of the third grade led the opening song, "The More We Get Together."

Favorable reports were made by the chairmen of the different committees. The year's work being brought to an end in a very satisfactory manner. The treasurer reported $95.69 in the treasury.

The president's massage was read by Mrs. C. D. Owen. The theme was, "The Challenge of Youth." Our youth must be provided with some sort of employment, preferably in the homes. It has been well said that "An idle brain is the devils' workshop."

After the business session, the new officers for the ensuing year were installed. Mrs. C. D. Owens acting as installing officer. The obligations assumed by the different members are solemn and binding. These should not be considered lightly but seriously. The welfare of the P. T. A. for the coming year depends largely upon the correlated efforts of its officers.

The retiring president, Mrs. B. W. Gamble, spoke in a commendable manner of the splendid co-operation given her as president. We feel sure a similar spirit of fellowship and goodwill will be manifested another years.

CARMICHAEL WILL STUDY SITUATION BEFORE ACTING

AUSTIN, May 11.—(AP)—Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the department of public safety, today contemplated a study of the department's personnel and functions before considering any changes.

Advised by telephone of his appointment, Col. Carmichael, assistant adjutant general, said he was not acquainted with any details of the new department's set-up, nor had he conferred with the public safety commission. He said two or three days would be needed to terminate his position as assistant adjutant general.

The colonel succeeded L. G. Phares as director. Phares resigned to end discord rapidly rising between the department and a group of peace officers. There also had been dissension within the ranger force over Phares' position.

Phares was retained as chief of the highway patrol, which he built up as a unit of the highway department, and director of the new driver's license bureau.

AND YOU MAKE BANKS POSSIBLE

"Banks make our modern life and modern business possible. Without them we should quickly revert to the economic conditions obtaining in the days of our forefathers, and what a revolution that would be. Further, each bank today is in a large sense a neighborhood institution; its executives know the needs of the industries and the individuals in the community where it is located, and minister to those needs with efficiency, intelligence, and fairness."—Paul Tomlinson, in Harpers Magazine.

As this points out, banks do much to make our modern type of living possible. . . You—as depositor, borrower, wage earner or simply as a productive citizen of this community—make it possible for banks like this to serve you.

MORE PENSIONS

Even while the government is preparing to pay the "soldiers' bonus" there is talk of service pensions to follow. Not officially, and not perhaps by responsible persons. Yet many government officials and many of the veterans' representatives apparently take it for granted. A drive for it might start in the next Congress. Then the effort would be pressed year after year, winning one concession after another, perhaps, until most or all of the surviving veterans were granted pensions. There are now 4,000,000 of them.

Any such prospect may seem strange, after the definite understanding supposed to have been reached at the close of the World War. There was to be no more indiscriminate pensioning. Reparations was to be made to the families of men killed or incapacitated. There was to be "adjusted compensation" in the form of a free insurance policy maturing in 1945. Veterans suffering from disabilities due to their military service were to be generously cared for by the government. All these things were done. But pressure soon started, and has continued in growing strength, for larger and earlier recompense—not as a favor, but as a right. It has always been so.

Some prophets are saying that the government will yet pay World War veterans $100,000,000,000. If the country assumes such obligations, it will be a powerful argument against another war.

HAPPY AND HEALTHY

Lord Horder, "physician-in-ordinary" to the King of England, upon his recent arrival in this country reserved certain of his medical views but expressed himself freely on two points, the family doctor and longevity.

"People live long enough," he told questioners. "How to live more happily would be more to the point. People are living longer, actually, and every year their expectation of life at any given age is increasing. But what is the use of living longer if we are not happy?"

Longer life, apparently, is inevitable with modern medical knowledge. Happier life depends on a lot of things about which he thinks people should do something now, for themselves.

As for the family doctor, Lord Horder says we can't get along without him. We've tried to, and now we're beginning to want him again and to recognize his importance to our health.

These views are old-fashioned, but sensible.

DOCTOR BILLS

Another doctor, this one in Altoona, Pa., has wiped out a lot of debts owing him. He did a thorough job of it by burning the ledgers containing all the old records. The total amounted to many thousands of dollars, but the doctor didn't bother to figure out the actual total. He said he hadn't the slightest idea how much his patients owed him, and he didn't care. He explained his action thus:

"When my friends, who have no money, meet me on the street, they apologize for not meeting their bills. Some are afraid I'm going to prosecute them. It makes us both embarrassed."

This physician is 82 years old. Perhaps he no longer practices regularly, has a comfortable living and can afford this fine, generous act. Yet patients, his own and those of other doctors, should ponder the situation and guide their future actions accordingly. Too often it is true that people neglect their doctor bills just because the doctor is sympathetic and tolerant. They pay other bills because other creditors are impatient and refuse further service. Doctors give their services free where there is need, but they should not be imposed on by careless or self-ish patients not in need.

JUST FOLKS

THE MARTINS RETURN.

The martins from their winter stay
Got back to town the other day.

They found their house in proper care,
The keeper of the lodge still there.

The scouts came in the day before
And looked the various dwellings o'er;

Saw all in order, painted new,
And then at dawn away they flew.

Now all are here and settled down
To spend the summer-time in town.

As keeper of the lodge I try
Such faith in me to justify;

And glad am I when they're returned
To know their confidence I've earned.

For martins are peculiar birds.
They never speak to us in words.

Comfort and safety they require,
Freedom for rapid flight desire.

If all is not in good array,
Without a word they'll move away;

And as I see them so content,
I take it as a compliment.

POPULAR CRIME ENFORCEMENT.

J. Edgar Hoover, boss G-man at Washington, seldom talks for publication, but when he does, he says something. Blowing off steam the other day about pliant politicians who aid criminals, he said:

"The man in public office who uses his influence to obstruct honest law enforcement is a public enemy who puts fellows like Dillinger in the shade.

"I am not against proper paroles. But when hardened, habitual criminals, who have definitely proved they will commit crimes every time they are freed, are given paroles, then I know the system is wrong.

"This type of politician must be driven from public life. You can't teach old dogs new tricks. And the great hope of getting them out now lies with the new voters. These voters have grown to manhood and womanhood during the last three years when crime enforcement has enjoyed unparalleled popularity. They have caught the spirit of crime-fighting. If they become convinced that certain men in public life are obstructing justice, they will throw such men out. Then we can really begin to get somewhere."

SUN-DYED RACES

According to a Russian scientist, radical characteristics have been determined mainly by the sun's rays. He believes that "the decomposition of light, combined with peculiarities of electromagnetic fields of the earth," produces the distinctive color, along with many other physical qualities and even mental qualities, of the great racial groups.

It doesn't sound so very crazy. This earth's energy and life nearly all come from the sun. Different races have developed in different geographical areas, subject to widely different conditions of light, temperature, humidity, and so on, for long periods. Such factors must have had a great deal to do with producing races so different as the white, black, red, brown and yellow. It might not take vast ages, either, as far as complexion is concerned. Don't white men tend to turn yellow in China, copper on our western plains, brown in the South Seas and dark in equatorial Africa? And given a long enough period, such changes would be fixed.

"OVER MY DEAD BODY!" By Chamberlain

650 PEOPLE SAVED.

Figures just released for the first quarter of 1936 reveal a marked improvement in traffic safety. The death rate for motor accidents was 9 per cent lower than in the first quarter of 1935.

The big cities lead the country in this progress. Twenty-five cities of 250,000 or more population reported fewer motor fatalities so far this year. New York's record is best for the cities above 500,000, with a reduction of 28 per cent from last year and a rate of only 7.5 traffic deaths per 100,000. Springfield, Mass., with a population of 153,000, set a record for its class by going through the first quarter without a fatality.

These gains were made in a period when the number of cars on the road was increasing rapidly. Some of the improvement must come from the educational work of the National Safety Council and newspapers, magazines, public schools and traffic departments everywhere.

The council estimates that 650 lives were saved in that three-month period and that, if the rate of improvement is maintained, 3,300 lives will be saved in 1936. The heaviest driving months are just ahead, but this goal is possible.

BETTING ON ICE

We have Alaskan sweepstakes, too, on top of all our other gambling, domestic and foreign. And this Alaskan type is at least picturesque. It is based on the spring break-up of river ice. They bet on the time the ice will start moving. There can be as many given points as people want to bet on. They fix a pole in the ice, out in midstream, and run a wire to the shore, connecting with a clock. When the ice starts, the clock stops, and the closest guesser wins.

The big stakes this year were placed at Nenana, on the Tanana River, a tributary of the Yukon near Fairbanks. They amounted to $72,000. The whole region was agog from April 26, when the ice started at Chena, until the 30th, when it let go at Nenana. It must have made a fine sight, too, all that mass of ice four feet thick, rushing and grinding in the spring flood. Horses could hardly be so thrilling.

What won't they gamble on next?

There's another boy king, this time in Egypt. Just give the kids a chance and maybe the Old World will get somewhere.

Texas Girl Is Found Shot Death St. Louis Park

ST. LOUIS, May 9.—(AP)—Miss Rilma White, 18-year-old music student from Tulia, Texas, was found shot to death today in the city park of Clayton, St. Louis suburb.

The body was found by police near the entrance to the park. There was a bullet wound above the abdomen and a .32 caliber revolver containing a discharged cartridge was beside the body.

Chief of Police Otto Schnarr called the death a suicide but said no motive had been established. He found no notes in her effects.

Mrs. C. C. Child, Jr., with whom the girl resided, said she appeared in good spirits when she left this morning for a music school she attended.

SECRET ETHIOPIAN CAPITAL SET UP IS MARIAM STATEMENT

PARIS, May 9.—(AP)—Wolde Mariam announced today, under instructions from the Ethiopian government's "new secret capital," that he would go to Geneva Monday with an appeal for "justice against Italy."

The Ethiopian minister to Paris and delegate to the League of Nations declined to disclose where the government was set up since that would be "bad military tactics, laying it open to attack."

"It is true the government in some respects is disorganized, but it is nevertheless functioning," he said.

"The Paris legation is receiving orders from a new capital where a large part of the cabinet and numerous functionaries are carrying on."

Mariam, as "official spokesman for the government," declared Ethiopias' minitary resistance to the Italians would continue even though the Fascist forces have occupied Addis Ababa and declared their war concluded successfully.

"We will not surrender as long as a singl inch of land is in the hands of Ethiopians, whence they can attack the invaders," Mariam said.

"I shall tell the League the Ethiopian government is intact and functioning. It is in direct communcation with what remains of the army, the legations throughout the world and all parts of Ethiopia not occuvied by the Italians.

"The Italians really occupy only a minute part of the empire."

Selassie Going to London.

JERUSALEM, May 9.—(AP)—Haile Selassie, self-exiled Emperor of Ethiopia, intends to go to London in three or four days, one of the imperial party said today.

Empress Mennen will remain in the Holy Land while the emperor proceeds to Europe.

The monarch who fled his capital just a week ago arose at dawn today and visited the holy places, accompanied by his ministers.

He visited Holy Sepulchre, kneeling and kissing the Stone of Unction before entering the tomb to pday for several minutes.

JERUSTLEM, May 9.—(AP)—Haile Selassie, fugitive Emperor of Ethiopia, asked today in his first public statement in exile, that justice be done his country.

Said the emperor: "The nation which placed its complete faith in the League of Nations—of which Ethiopia still is a member—cannot believe that the League will not seek reparation against another member which has been condemned as an aggressor.

"We ask that justice be doen to protect a weak nation against a stronger."

GIFT SHOP MANAGER FOUND BEATEN DEATH CHICAGO SATURDAY

AUTHORITIES ARE SEEKING SOLUTION ASSAULT AND MURDER CASE

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian Guild, 35-year-old widow and gift shop manager, was found bludgeoned to death today in her small room in the Y. W. C. A. hotel in Michigan avenue, just south of the Loop.

Dr. W. T. Harsh, Jr., said Mrs. Guild apparently had been criminally assaulted by her slayer.

Chief of Detectives John L. Cullivan announced he had found obscene pictures, literature and other errotica in the room of a boiler attendant in the building and ordered a search for the man.

The almost nude body lay partly under a kimona. One end of the kimona and a pillow had been placed over the head. The room gave evidence of a terrific struggle, but hotel employes said they had heard no sounds during the night.

Near the body lay a slab of concrete, covered with blood, with which police said the woman had been beaten to death.

The details of what the police termed an assault and slaying bore a similarity to the recent killing of Mrs. Nancy Titterton in New York.

The victim was a native of Attleboro, Mass.

A silk nightgown hung in shreds from her shoulders. The bed clothing and the rug were spattered with blood.

The authorities questioned two male employes of the hotel, Sylvester Ciskoski and Fritz Frenzen, in an effort to trace the victim's movements last night. Neither recalled any unusual sounds during the night, they said.

Only an agile man, the police decided, could have escaped from Mrs. Guild's room by way of the fire escape.

MOTTLED WEATHER CHART OVER NATION REPORTED SATURDAY

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Tornadoes, blizzards, heavy rains and abnormal heat mottled the nation today.

Tornadoes injured five persons and wrecked a score of buildings at Hanna, Okla., late yesterday ad injured four residents of Gore, Okla., last night. A small twister claimed one life at Bonham, Tex. Torrential rains washed out roads in the Hanna area.

One hundred and fifty travelers, marooned for nearly 24 hours by a blizzard atop Raton Pass, were rescued or made their way to safety last night. Forty-five of them, passengers on two busses, were brought to Trinidad, Colo., and Raton, N. M. Power lines in Trinidad and several communities in that vicinity were down.

Snow and rain ended a spring drought over great stretches of the western plains. The precipitation brightened crop prospects in the southwestern "dust bowl." As a consequence, the wheat market dropped three cents at Chicago yesterday and five at Minneapolis.

From the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic seaboard a heat wave brought out straw hats. A peak of 93 was reached yesterday at Easton, Pa. Philadelphia reported 92, Chicago 86 and New York 87.1—a record for the date.

Week-end showers were expected to return midwestern temperatures to more seasonable levels.

Hundreds of acres of farm land near Aitken, Minn., were flooded as the Mississippi river swelled steadily.

MAHAN SENTENCED TO SIXTY YEARS ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

PLEADS GUILTY AND GETS SIXTY YEARS IN EACH CASE; CONCURRENT

TACOMA, Wash., May 9. (AP)—Scar-faced William Mahan bowed his head over his red necktie, pleaded guilty today, received a 60-year sentence and was bundled off to federal prison for engineering the $200,000 kidnaping of George Weyerhaeuser, timber fortune heir.

The government left hanging over him a mail extortion indictment on which it might, if deemed necessary, add a life sentence to his quota of punishment.

Scarcely more than an hour after pronouncement of sentence, and only 48 hours after his capture, Mahan was bound for McNeil Island prison, in Puget Sound a short distance from Tacoma.

Federal officers said he might later be transferred to Alcatraz Island prison for incorrigibles in San Francisco Bay.

The putting away of Mahan closed the justice department's books on one of the most sensational of the recent series of "big time" kidnapings.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Metz Waley, Mahan's confederates, were caught in Salt Lake City June 8, 1925, nine days after the trio had split the $200,000 paid them by J. P. Weyerhaeuses, lumber magnate for the release of his curly-haired 9-year-old son.

The Waleys yielded upwards of $80,000 of the ransom money and were bundled off to prison—Waley to Alcatraz on a 45-year sentence, and Mrs. Waley to a Milan, Mich., federal institution for 20 years.

Mahan eluded Buttle, Mont., police the day after the Waleys were captured. There he left behind him more than $15,000 and an automobile. When arrested, federal agents said, he had $7,300 in his pockets, some of it ransom money.

Subsequently the federal agents reported finding $13,000 more in his San Francisco hideout. Unverified reports, however, were that the total recovered in San Francisco was $40,000.

TACOMA, Wash., May 9.—(AP)—William Mahan pleaded builty today to both kidnaping counts brought for the $200,000 abduction last summer of George Weyerheauser nine year old lumber family scion.

Mahan's first reply, "guilty," was in a low tone of voice and Federal Judge E. E. Cushman lifted his head and looked quizzically at him.

Mahan then repeated again in a louder tone of voice, "guilty."

Judge Cushman then sentenced Mahan to 60 years on each count, but did not say whether they would be consecutive or concurrent. A few minutes later, Judge Cushman decreed the two 60-year sentences should be concurrent.

The sentence was to McNeil Island penitentiary, in Puget Sound near here.

Another indictment, charging mail fraud, was not read.

Mahan declined to make any statement. He had also refused the offer by the court to appoint an attorney to represent him.

McNeil Island is only about an hour away by bus and boat and Mahan could be taken there this afternoon. Warden P. Swope of the penitentiary came here last night to confer with department of justice agents.

The United States attorney general at Washington will determine later whether Mahan will remain there or be transferred to Alcatraz or Leavenworth penitentiary.

Mahan pleaded guilty to a charge of kidnaping and also to one of conspiracy to kidnap.

LANDON GIVES BROAD HINT TO NATION THAT HE WILL BATTLE FOR PRESIDENCY IF SELECTED

TOPEKA, Kas., May 8.—(AP)—The nation had a broad hint from Gov. Alf M. Landon today that the coming presidential campaign will be "no pink tea affair" if he receives the Republican nomination.

Mixing in criticism of the Roosevelt administration, the governor gave his own ideas on issues of the contest in a radio interview at the executive residence last night with H. V. Kaltenborn, political commentator.

What the nation needs most, Landon said, is a revival of confidence. He assailed the new deal as betraying "our high national ideals" with "wasteful, slipshod, incompetent, happy-go-lucky administration," and said "progressive government deserves something better than casual experiments."

The "pink tea" remark came when Kaltenborn asked the governor whether he would make a "real fighting campaign" if he were nominated.

Landon replied: "Well, that all depends on how you judge a man. Some people judge a man by the amount of talking he does. Other people judge him by what he gets done...As to a fighting campaign—well, you can never tell how a horse will work until you hitch him up.

"The returns of the last two Kansas elections might answer that question. I don't think anyone ever considered our political campaign in Kansas as pink tea affairs."

The interview was Landon's first extensive public discussion of national issues since his Kansas Day address Jan. 29.

WINNING ESSAY ON BETTER CITIZENSHIP BY MARY LOU SMITH

"WHO IS CRIMINAL AND WHY" WAS SUBJECT HANDLED BY CONTESTANT

Miss Mary Lou Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smith, won the first prize in the Civitan club's 1936 Better Citizenship Essay contest conducted by the Corsicana club among high school students. Miss Smith read her winning essay, "Who is a Criminal and Why?" at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the club. The essay is to be forwarded to the Civitan International where it will be entered in international competition for further judging.

Following is Miss Smith's essay:

All through the ages the voice of man has been crying out in a wilderness of doubt, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" Since the day when God said to Cain, "Thou shalt be a fugitive and a vagabond upon the face of the earth," the hand of society has been turned against the criminal. The laws of God and man have been formed and compiled for the protection of the human race. The will of the people decrees that certain laws of custom, usage, and convenience shall be obeyed with necessary penalties for him who disobeys.

Within our borders in recent years have sprung up organized bands of outlaws who have succeeded in perpetrating heinous crimes in amassing great fortunes, and in terrorizing our population. What peculiar mental condition of a great and powerful nation has allowed these hoodlums to rule? There is only one answer. The great mass of American citizens have traded their birthright for a mess of pottage. This rare privilege of citizenship which our pioneer fathers and mothers gained by lives of inestimable hardships has atrophied and almost died for lack of exercise. We are all guilty.

Ideals Have Changed.

It has been said that "God sifted a nation in order that the choicest grains might be sent to this wilderness," but how sadly our ideals have changed. A great unlawful element is a direct challenge to any government and a stern indictment of its people. How we burn with shame and regret when we think of our own great citizens fleeing to foreign lands for protection for their children! How could such an appalling age have come to pass?

We find a large class of active malefactors who are to be dreaded as the hordes of Attila, but above and behind these are the instigators of their nefarious deeds—the human spiders who spread their tentacles over our civilization. We find corruption in our courts and indifference among our people. We find great wealth for a few and bitter, hopeless poverty for the many.

No Born Criminals.

There are no born criminals; heredity, with its tendencies, is a factor to be considered, but training and environment count far more than this. A wise man has said "Without vision the people perish." What kind of vision could a child of our city slums receive? Where his inspirations? Whose the fault? Certainly it is not his. The greed of tenement owners is a direct cause of an unhealthful physical and moral degeneration. The absentee landlords, who see only their rent checks, know little and care less for the human cattle who struggle and slave under conditions worse than those of the Middle Ages. They must shoulder their burden. These children of the streets are fertile soil for the seeds of evil, ready tools are they for unscrupulous leaders. Can this state—and WE are the state—afford to ignore this situation? A chain can be no stronger than its weakest link.

The rapid dissolution of the home has torn away the feeling of stability to which every child is entitled. Let us arouse again in the hearts of mothers and fathers the feeling of united responsibility for their children's lives. Let us build again the ideal of the family hearthstone. The divorce court solves few problems, but how many it raises! Those children who are the victims of this modern Moloch are not the ones to be censured when they lose their respect for the sanctity of person or home.

Inefficiency and Dishonesty.

What shall we say of the wholesale inefficiency and dishonesty in high places? What of the judges and the juries who do not convict these offenders according to law and evidence? And just as dangerous, what of our governors who are allowed to turn these convicts loose to prey upon society again? Their names should be blazoned in red letters along with those of the gang chieftains. They are even more poisonius than actual convicts because they use the confidence of the people to conceal their depravity. They nullify the work of honest men by making a mockery of the office they have sworn to uphold. There are no words strong enough to brand these men as traitors to the public!

We have plenty of laws, good laws, but our enforcement agencies leave much to be desired. The charge has been made again and again that our juries are not representative of the citizenship. Our best men shirk the duty of serving in court and leave it to a class of criminal sympathizers. That man is guilty of an offense against his community who evades his public obligation or refuses to help enforce the laws of the land.

Do Not Have Support.

We know, too, that it is hard to get the highest type of men for our officers. They realize they will not have the wholehearted support of a big mass of so-called good citizens. These men who stay away from the polls and allow the riff-raff to run their towns are slackers who are responsible for the ills of their civic life. They are the men who are to blame for our weakest link, enforcement. Theirs is the guilt when a corrupt politician sits on the judge's bench or in the governor's mansion. They have wantonly thrown away the thing for which our forefathers fought and died—the greatest privilege of a free man—universal suffrage.

Go with our young people to the movies in any town and see what clear lessons in slime and filth they receive for their entertainment. The producers seem to think only in terms of dollars and cents. The official censors are far too lax. Each thinking individual who cares for decency has the right to demand clean amusement on the screen so our younger generations shall have the opportunity to grow up with wholesome, sane minds, in sane bodies. If we, as individuals, do not help to correct this condition, then we contribute to the delinquency of minors.

Severe Punishment Necessary.

The hardened criminal must be restrained by severe punishments, but the hope of the nation shall always lie in its youth. These young offenders are often arrested for small infractions of laws and locked in jails with men and women of perverted minds and diseased bodies. The youngsters, far too often, come out seasoned gangsters, ready accomplices for older, more experienced evil-doers. Certainly the state has not looked to the future of these juvenile citizens. Honest far-seeing men must assume the duty of correcting this sore spot in our system.

Statistics show that a great per cent of crimes are committed under influence of alcohol. The open saloon is with us again in spite of all flowery campaign promises. Our courts and jails are crowded with violators of order and decency while intoxicated, many of these being young boys and girls. Sheer pressure of circumstances is the great moulder of humanity. The liquor taxes are swelling our treasury. Death rides our highways in the guise of drunken drivers. Our very lives have been bartered for thirty pieces of silver. Who voted this upon us?

We have all the privileges of free citizens of a powerful and wealthy nation. When shall we awaken to our corresponding obligations? Again and again we ponder this old, old question in a new world—"Am I my brother's keeper?"

UNK PEDLEY, OLDEST DALLAS PILOT IN POINT OF SERVICE IS BREEDER OF FINE HORSES

Under a two-column picture of American Airlines, Pilot Charles F. (Unk) Pedley, as he stood by his big plane ready to greet passengers, the Dallas Journal of Wednesday afternoon carried the following interesting story of the former popular Corsicana pilot under a double-column head. Pedley, one of the most popular fliers ever known in Corsicana, is the dean of Dallas pilots now and apparently is as popular in the Centennial city as he was and still is in Corsicana. The article in its entirety with head follows:

"Unk Pedley, Oldest Dallas Pilot in Point of Service. Breeds Fine Horses, Rides Them in Spare Time."

What does a transport pilot think about when everything in the sky is serene and his great air liner is droning along without a hitch?

With Charles F. (Unk) Pedley, dean of Dallas pilots, the oldest in point of service on any air line that touches this city, it is about the time when he can get back to "Cedar Lake," his forty-five-acre farm a mile and a half south of Irving, and ride one of the thoroughbred horses he delights to rear. Or maybe it is about catching another seventeen-inch bass like that one he pulled out of his spring-fed lake last week.

After 11,380 hours in the air, during which he has clipped off some 1,138,000 miles, convoying the Southerner, crack American Airlines ship, between Dallas and El Paso every day, is just a breeze to Unk Pedley. Dallas sky line looks like home to him from every angle, for at one time or another during his one year, three months, nineteen days and four hours of time aloft he has approached it along all the regular runs, except the east one to Memphis. And, of course, he will eventually do that one, too.

In his seventeen years of flying Mr. Pedley, still only 36, has hung up an impressive list of records, besides the most-hours-in-the-air one. He flew the first regularly scheduled air mail and passenger flight that ever went out of Dallas. That was in 1921. Feb. 6, 1928, he flew the first air mail out of here to Houston and Galveston. He flew the first westbound mail out of Atlanta on Oct. 15, 1930, to Dallas. His was the hand that dipped and wheeled the plane that escorted Gov. Dan Moody and 125 businessmen of Texas who made a tour of the North and East on the All-Texas special train in 1927.

Coming down out of the air, Mr. Pedley was division manager of Southern Air Transport, Inc., when that corporation had a pilots' school and airport at Love Field in 1929, before being absorbed by a larger company. But he liked flying better, he says, and if he has his "druthers" he will continue to do just what he is doing.

Married since he was 22, Mr. Pedley remembers his wedding date without hesitation and says: "I can't even remember the time when I wasn't married."

Three years ago his company urged all its men to take up some hobby or form of exercise that would maintain them in condition for the rigid physical examination which are routine with pilots. "Most of the energetic lads took up golf right away," Pedley comments, "but I chose horseback riding because I have always liked that best. Then I got interested in having good horses to ride, so I just decided to breed thoroughbreds myself. So I do." At the approach of a fellow thoroughbred fancier his eye takes on a new gleam.

After airplanes, then home, horses, fish. That is what the oldest transport pilot thinks about as he buzzes through Dallas skyways.

ADDIS ABABA BEING THOROUGHLY CLEANED BY OCCUPATION ARMY

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated ress Foreign Staff.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY N ADDIS ABABA, May 8.—(AP)—Young Ethiopian children gave the fascist salute to all Europeans today as the Italian army of occupation cleaned up the desolated former imperial capital of Ethiopia.

The youngsters were encouraged to do so by priests of both the Mussulmn and Coptic Christian religions who promised to aid Italian authorities in bringing peace.

As order began to prevail after the rioting and looting which followed officers said they found evidence that the pillaging of the capital was carried out systematically.

Natives reported the looters moved from store to store and from house to house under the command of Ethiopian officers, raiding establishments, soaking them with fuel and firing them.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio ordered that all natives arrested for rioting, looting, incendiarism and crimes against persons or property be turned over to newly-created courts martial for trial.

Complete calm spread through the city under the combined policing of Italian troops who occupied the former capital Tuesday and native constabulary who were enlisted for work.

Four foreigners were known to have died during the reign of terror which preceded the Italian occupation.

The bodies of two unidentified foreigners were found in an automobile which had been turned over and burned. The other foreign victims were Mrs. N. A. Stadin, wife of an American missionary, who was shot to death Sunday, and Dr. A. J. Melly, leader of the British ambulance unit, who died after being shot the same day. About 200 native residents were believed to have perished in the rioting.

The imperial library, ministerial quarters and other buildings adjoining the imperial palace were burned to the ground.

SEEK EXTRADITION FROM OKLAHOMA OF MAN WANTED HERE

Papers were being prepared Friday morning by Criminal District Attorney John R. Curington, asking Gov. James V. Allred of Texas to ask for extradition papers to Governor Marland of Oklahoma for the return of B. F. Schooler, wanted here on an embezzlement indictment.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse plans to send the papers to the governor during the day in an effort to get the requisition for extradition proceedings.

Schooler was indicted by the Navarro county grand jury in connection with the alleged embezzling from O. W. (Pete) O'Daniel of $350 Sept. 18, 1934, when the defendant was an employee and agent for O'Daniel. Mr. O'Daniel could not be reached for a statement relative to the transaction Friday, but officers said the deal was concerning the procuring of a beverage franchise.

The accused man was arrested in Oklahoma City Thursday night by Deputy Sheriffs John Adams and Everett Agee of that city but refused to waive extradition and later was released on a temporary bond in the sum of $1,000.

Negro Charged In Robbery Of Dallas Salesman

Curley Davis, negro, was named in a formal charge of robbery with firearms and with carrying a pistol in complaints accepted Friday morning by the criminal district attorney's office following his arrest late Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd in connection with the alleged robbing of G. Shiller, Dallas salesman, on Highway 31 east of Powell Thursday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

Schiller was relieved of $15 in cash and an $85 watch by an armed negro after the salesman had picked up a negro passenger on the highway, according to information furnished Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse.

Deputy Sheriff Floyd had been hunting for Davis all day Thursday on a charge of alleged theft of an automobile from Groesbeck which had been found abandoned here.

The cases will likely be presented to the Navarro county grand jury when the probers resume their investigations Tuesday.

Two Dead, Two Wounded in Fight Possession Baby

MADISONVILLE, Ky., May 8.—(AP)—A gun fight over a baby left two men dead and a father and son wounded in a savage affray last night in a remote section of Christian county, near Mannington, Ky.

One of Cotton's sons, Melvin, was shot to death by Lewis and another son, Clyde, wounded, Sheriff R. D. Crafton, of Hopkins county reported.

The elder Cotton, also wounded, wrested the gun from Lewis and beat him to death with it, investigating officers said.

Lewis, Sheriff Crafton stated, went to the Cotton home to get possession of the child, whose mother, Isaac Cotton's stepdaughter, died two weeks ago.

SIX PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS EXPECTED ATTRACT INTEREST IN COMING CAMPAIGN

AUSTIN, May 8.—(AP)—R. B. Stanford, secretary of state, today signalled the approach of campaigning on six proposed constitutional amendments with a setting May 20 of drawings to determine their sequence on the ballot.

Liquor control stood out as the proposal most likely to attract sharpest public interest. Early campaigning for one to raise salaries of several state officials was directed by Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul, who termed low remuneration now provided "a disgrace to the state."

Metropolitan areas will be pitted against the rural group on another to limit maximum representation in the house. Others proposed a teachers' retirement system, compensation insurance for state workmen, and limitation of the governor's pardoning power.

Conforming to a 1935 act, the order set by the secretary of state after a public drawing must be used in all counties. Previously the sequence was determined separately in each county.

Campaigning was simplified by the change. Advocates or opponents could refer to an amendment by number easier than by title. Voters also were enabled to familiarize themselves with proposals by location on the ballot beforehand.

State Liquor Monopoly.

A state liquor monopoly, prohibiting the sale for private profit, was submitted as a companion to the one last August by which Texans ended statewide prohibition. The double amendment plan was a compromise between factions which contested over private sales versus a state monopoly.

Advocates of the monopoly, including many prohibitionists, withheld early campaigning on the amendment to give the liquor control board, administrator of the package sale law, a fair chance to prove its worth. Voters likely will scrutinize operation of the present system carefully in determining their attitude on the monopoly plan, used in several states.

Woodul said he would campaign actively in behalf of the amendment to increase salaries, explaining he had no intention of seeking any of the offices affected.

The proposal would increase the governor's salary from $4,000 to $12,000 annually. The attorney general's pay would be boosted from $2,000 constitutional plus $2,000 statutory, to $12,000. That for the comptroller, treasurer and commissioner of the general land office would be raised from $2,500 to $6,000, and the secretary of state from $2,000 to $6,000.

Submission of the amendment to limit to seven the number of representatives one county could have until its population exceeded 700,000, was bitterly fought in the legislature.

Big city representatives claimed it would rob metropolitan areas of equal representation while those from rural areas contended it was necessary to prevent a few large counties from dominating the house.

The teachers' retirement amendment would authorize the legislature to provide a pension system paying $180 a year to those who had taught for 20 years in state schools. The shortest amendment would give the legislature authority to provide workmen's compensation for state employes.

Public interest likely will mount as campaigning starts on a proposal to establish a board of pardons and paroles of three members, one to be appointed by the governor, one by the chief justice of the supreme court and the other by the presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals.

Clemency granting by the governor would be restricted to cases recommended by the board, which would replace a current one provided by statute. The governor would be allowed to grant only one reprieve of not more than 30 days duration in a death penalty case.

COMBINATION TREATMENTS.

COMBINE YOUR TREATMENTS

For the busy woman, Miss Forbes plans beauty treatments which combine with each other so you can work in three or more in the time it takes to do one.

E. K. Forbes

If you are a busy woman (and this goes nowadays for the housewife as well as the woman in an office), you will want to combine your beauty treatments so as to get the most done in the smallest amount of time. Clever beauty shops, for this reason, have arranged things so you can have your hair done, and while you lie back having it dried, your nails and your toes can be done, and your eyebrows plucked. Often it can even be arranged to have a facial, though this is more difficult. But it comes out so that one solid hour a week suffices for everything.

Be no less clever in your own home. While you do your nails, let some thick nourishing cream sink into your skin. Use the time when your nails must soak in hot water to give the toenails a scrubbing with soap and hot water, and clean, trim and oil them, while you do your fingers. Pedicure and manicure combined this way take 40 minutes; the manicure itself would take 30. Meantime you are doing your face at lot of good with the cream, and five minutes after your manicure is finished will be enough for a massage and a cold rinse and the usual powder and make-up afterward.

Hair is so complicated these days that few women do their own at home if they can possibly afford a shop. But if you do yours, use the time while it dries under a net to treat your nails and your face. At the same time, put cream on your elbows to soak in, put cream on the toes and the heels, where they sometimes get callous from the shoes rubbing; treat any part of your body that needs something special done to it. In this way a very short time each week is enough to keep you looking your best. The chief thing, really, is to have a certain day and a certain hour for all this, a schedule you follow carefully. Method is everything.

LOBBY COMMITTEE CHALLENGED CLAIMS OF WM. R. HEARST

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(AP)—The Black lobby committee challenged claims of William R. Hearst today that its scrutiny of his telegrams constituted an invasion of freedom of the press.

Replying to the publisher's appeal to the United States Court of Appeals from the District of Columbia Supreme Court's refusal to rejoin the committee, Crampton Harris, committee counsel, said Hearst's reliance on the freedom of the press provision in the constitution was "new to our experience."

"If congress should pass no law affecting the business of the press in any way whatsoever," the committee reply said, "the press becomes ipso facto a thing above and beyond the law.

"A business subject to no law would become as deadly as a runway sun. It would scorch and burn and destroy everything in its path. The congress could pass no act to define crime committed in the business, could impose no regulation, levy no proper taxes, establish no penalties for contempt of court, could afford no protection to the executive, the judiciary, the congress, or the people. The mere statement of such a claim is a sufficient reputation."

When Hearst lost in the District Supreme Court, Elisha Hanson, his counsel, asked the Appeals Court for a special appeal from the ruling.

The committee's brief contended such action would not be in the interests of justice, was required by no special emergency, and that no serious injustice would result from getting an appeal to this court in the regular course of proceedings.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 higher to 3 lower with steadier Liverpool cables offset by rain in the western and central belts. May 11.60; July 11.25, Oct. 10.29; Dec. 10.30; Jan. 10.29; March 10.32.

The market remained quiet and moved within a range of 2 or 3 points during early trading. There was further covering by trade shorts in the near months.

The demand for May was supplied, presumably by pool brokers, while scattered selling of new crop months developed on reports of rain in the southwest. At the end of the first hour May was selling at 11.58 and Dec. at 11.29, or about unchanged to 3 points net lower.

According to the New York cotton exchange service sales by the producers' pool last week were approximately 5,000 bales of spots and 30,900 bales of May futures which left remaining stocks amounting to about 207,000 bales of spots and 881,000 bales of futures, including 150,100 for May delivery.

The total amount of cotton released by the Commodity Credit Corp. up to the close of last Friday was 550,493 bales.

The market continued quiet and barely steady later in the morning. May held at 11.58 on some covering by trade shorts while later months sagged slightly under scattered hedging. At mid-day Dec. was ruling around 10.26 with the general market showing net losses of 2 to 3 points.

The market ruled comparatively quiet all morning with prices a shade easier. July was influenced by a heavy interest in that month held by government agencies.

The new crop months were a shade easier because of good rains in the western part of the belt and in North Louisiana.

July showed the largest decline, dropping to 11.13, or 5 points below Saturday's close. Oct. dropped to 10.23 and Dec. to 10.24, or 2 to 3 points under the previous close.

May, the current month, lost only 1 point in the morning trading under the support of large sales of loan cotton.

In the middle of the morning the market was quiet but steady and at the lows.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 2 lower. Spot quiet. Middling 11.03.

New Orleans Cotton Steady.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—(AP)—Cotton opened quiet and steady today with first trades showing no changes from Saturday's close on near months and 1 to 2 points off on new crop months. Liverpool cables came in about as due ad trading was light during the first hour. May and July remained unchanged from Saturday's close at 11.51 for the former and 11.18 for the latter.

New crop months eased off further to 10.23 for Oct. and 10.25 for Dec. This slightly easier feeling was due to reported good rains in the western belt over the week end.

Prices on near months still remained unchanged while new crop months were 2 points down from Saturday's close.

Forty women and nine men struck at the factory last week for higher pay, shorter hours and improved conditions.

U. S. Diplomats to Ethiopia Cited For Promotions Monday

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Cornelius Van H. Engert, minister to Ethiopia, was nominated for promotion by President Roosevelt today in recognition of his defense of the Addis Ababa legation from maurauders.

Also advanced in nominations sent to the senate was William M. Cramp, vice consul at Addis Ababa.

Both men were advanced a grade in the diplomatic service. The promotion means about $1,000 more annually to Engert and $500 to Cramp.

Call Loan Rate Raised.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—The interest rate on call loans on stock exchange listed collateral was raised today to 1 per cent from the 3-4 of 1 per cent rate in effect since October 30, 1935.

The 1 per cent rate just set was the highest since April 12, 1935. On April 13, of that year ended the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" among New York banks which had held the rate at 1 per cent for more than a year.

Wheat Slumps.

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—Unofficial surveys indicating 132,865,000 bushels probable yield for Kansas this season led to late setbacks of more than a cent in wheat prices today.

There were also reports that additional wheat is to be shipped to Chicago from Kansas City, about 700,000 bushels. Improved weather conditions for wheat were reported as prevailing in western Europe and in Australia.

FRENCH SOCIALIST PARTY LEADER WILL UNDERTAKE NEW DEAL

LEON BLUM ANNOUNCES ACCEPTANCE OF PREMIERSHIP AND OUTLINES PLANS

PARIS, May 11.— (AP) —Leon Blum, leader of the dominant socialist party, undertook to outline a "New Deal" for France today after announcing he would accept the premiership.

His projects included a vast public works program.

France's Socialists remained "hostile" to devaluation of the franc, he announced, but attached more importance to relief of "unemployment and misery" than to the financial problem.

Blum, 64-year-old president of the socialist party, told the organization's national council last night he would lead actively the Leftist "people's front," destined to govern the nation after the new chamber of deputies meets June 1.

The popular front of socialists, radical-socialists and communists won a majority in the elections for the new chamber, with the socialists gaining the greatest single party representation.

The socialist national council approved a resolution appealing to all Leftists groups to keep faith with the coalition and to collaborate in the forthcoming cabinet to succeed the "National Union" ministry of Premier Albert Sarraut.

The Socialists indicated that if any group failed to co-operate they would assume themselves full responsibility of government under their veteran leader.

The council adopted a second resolution authorizing Blum to undertake necessary conversations with party representatives for realization if possible of a common Leftist front cabinet.

Declares Question Liquidated.

"We have left because we cannot discuss this question with the Ethiopian. Moreover, as the Italo-Ethiopian question is liquidated, we do not wish to discuss the question at the council."

Selassie's agent, Wolde Mariam, has insisted upon being invited to every session of the council which discussed the Italo-Ethiopian question.

Before he strode out of the council session, Baron Aloisi told the assembled delegates:

"I have the honor ot declare that the Italian delegation cannot admit the presence at the council table of the so-called Ethiopian delegate.

"There exists, indeed, no semblance of organization of the Ethiopian state.

"The only sovereignty existing in Ethiopia is that of Italy.

"All discussion on the subject of the Italo-Ethiopian difference would, consequently, have no object.

Walked Out.

"Therefore I find myself obliged to refrain from participating in the discussion."

Then he got up and walked away from the horseshoe table.

The Ethiopian, Mariam, told the council that Ethiopia had been faithful to the League covenant and had broken no laws.

Ethiopia, he added, left her case entirely in the hands of the council.

The council decided upon an immediate public session.

The council decided upon an immediate public session.

The public meeting was brief and only questions of minor importance were touched upon before adjournment.

Baron Aloisi was present and Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, sat in the presiding chair. There was no mention or the Italo-Ethiopian war.

One question taken up was that of relief for indigent nationals of one country stranded in another.

Way Held Open.

However, the council had not removed the Italo-Ethiopian question fro mits agenda, to the way was open for a discussion of Ethiopia's fate at some later session.

A direct communication from the exiled "Emperor without a country," vehemently protesting Italy's Saturday night decrees of seizure and asking the league to stand firm, was announced by Geneva officials just as the league council gathered in 92nd session.

Italian sources immediately indicated the fascist distator preferred to leave the league rather than to talk over the Ethiopian question in the council, in the presence of representatives of the negus.

It also was understood Italy wants the league to revoke its verdict of aggression guilt, pronounced because of her invasion of Ethiopia.

Question No Longer Exists.

Scandinavian diplomats heard that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Il Duce's representative to the league, had bluntly told council members that "the Ethiopian question does not exist any more" and he was prepared to leave the council immediately if the group disdupted his view.

Delegates held a series of hurried conferences to decide how to meet this latest factor in the crisis.

Baron Aloisi, it was said, contended the Ethiopian problem was liquidated Saturday when Mussolini announced the Roman empire and the disappearance of the sovereignty of Ethiopia.

Haile Selassie, from his Jerusalem seat of exile, declared Mussolini's war to have been the most cruel and unfair ever waged, and said it left Ethiopia afflicted, with a downpour of poison gas.

Will Continue to Fight.

But, he insisted, Ethiopians would continue to fight for the preservation of international law and the collective system of security.

He implored the league to take no action that would legitimatize Italy's "outrageous" aggression.

At the same time Selassie's envoy, Wolde Marian, served notice on league members that he expected to be invited to attend every session of the council which takes up the Ethiopian question.

As the council members gathered the view prevailed that existing sanctions would be maintained.

A member of the Italian delegation asked permission of J. A. C. Avenol, the league's secretary-general, to file remier Mussolini's decrees annexing Ethiopia officially with the league.

Avenol refused, but accepted copies of the decrees for his personal information only. He told the Italian that he must reserve all league rights concerning the validity of the decrees.

Wanted Come to England.

LODON, May 11.—(AP)—Prime Minister Baldwin told the house of commons today that Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia while en route to Palestine aboard H. M. S. Enterprise, asked to be conveyed direct to England.

"It was not found possible on practical grounds to make this alteration," the prime minister explained.

Keys Quads Set Out For Personal Visit to Dionnes

CALLANDER, Ont., May 11.—(AP)—The five little Dionnes danced for joy and blew kisses through a plate glass window today at four quadruplet lasses, from the far away Southwest.

The visitors, 20-year old Roberta, Leota, Mona and Mary Keys, live at Hollis, Okla. They came to Callander's babyland shrine as Centennial ambassadors from Texas, where they go to college.

"Wonderful!" — "Darling;" — "Just Gorgeous!" — "Divine!"— these were some of the superlatives from the sisters Keys, as they pressed their pretty noses against the window barrier in the "quinterie."

"They seemed to like us," said Leiota dater. "I think they knew we sympathized with them."

The quints will reach the ripe age of two years on the 28th of May.

Dolls, dresses, somberos and Spanish shawls came with the quadruplets for their little friends.

Tonight the four Keys will look at Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe's collection of quintuplet movies. Late today they visited Champlain camp, near here.

NORTH BAY, Ont., May 11.—(AP)—Four pretty Oklahoma quadruplets—the Sisters Keys—tumbled out of a railway berth this morning and set out to see the babies who went them one better—the Sisters Dionne.

Acting as Centennial ambassadors extraordinary from Texas, where they go to college, Roberta, Leota, Mona and Mary Keys, shivered in North Bay's frosty air and did justice to a breakfast of lake trout before visiting the quintuplets' nursery near Callander.

The 20-year-old quadruplets, besides seeing the quints, will visit Lake Champlain camp near here and chat with Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, the Dionne guardian-physician, before leaving for Toronto.

There they will be guests of the Ontario government.

Ed Howe Sees New Deal In Discard

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—(AP)—Ed Howe was on his way to his home at Atchison, Kas., today after leaving a few terse opinions here.

The "Sage of Potato Hill," told interviewers last night that "the new deal is already broken—the supreme court did that—and we'll finish it by throwing out the present crowd."

He said the nomination of Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas by the republicans was "all settled," and added that "we've got to reform the republicans, too."

RAIL COMMISSION HEARS DIVERGENT DRILLING OPINION

OPERATORS IN AMELIA FIELD URGE REGULATION; LANDOWNERS FOR DRILLING

AUSTIN, May 11.—(AP)—Operators in the Amelia oil field near Beaumont today cited the recent blowout of a well there as need for wide drilling regulations while landowners sought unrestricted drilling in a hearing before the railroad commission.

Glenn H. McCarthy of Houston, whose No. 2 blew out and ignited described conditions in the hole before and after and occurrence. He declined to recommend a specific spacing rule but asserted that fire and blow-out hazards would be reduced by restricting drilling.

"The more wells drilled," he said, "the more blow outs."

Questioned by Hines Baker of Houston, attorney for the Humble Oil and Refining company, McCarthy agreed that because of the type of the formations, with numerous sands that could be charged and three that were charged with gas, and danger of blow-outs was unusually great. He said extreme precaution was exercised in drilling the well.

Laten Stanberry, supervisor of the oil and gas division, questioned him concerning conditions of casing after the blow out and about McCarthy's opinion that the well bridge at the bottom of the hole.

Stanberry read telegrams from individuals and labor associations of Beaumont urging one-acre spacing at Amelia. H. F. Walton of Beaumont, official of the Beaumont Amelia Oil Land asociation, said that group would contend for "the right to drill where we want to, without restrictions."

McCarthy said he believed structures were different between the north area of Amelia, in which production has been obtainedand the south area, in which he said there was no commercial producer. He said it was possible dry territory separated the arcas.

A well 660 feet from the one which blew out was unaffected, McCarthy said, and while closer spacing likely would not have made a difference in the one case, it might in another.

One spokesman advanced belief that delay of the commission in promulgating a spacing rule had retarded development of the area. About eight wells had ben completed and it was estimated 19 permits had ben obtained. In the absence of a special rule, developfent would be on the basis of the general rule, permitting drilling 150 feet from a property line and 300 feet from another well.

TAX BILL

was delayed by a parliamentary tangle over a statement in the Congressional Record. Taber contended remarks extended in the Congressional Record by Rep. Martin (D-Colo) represented him as defending WPA when the contrary was true.

A motion by Taber to have the remarks expunged from the record was voted down 240 to 114.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—The administration tax program, with its levy against undisturbed corporation profits, faced a crucial test today.

Members of the senate finance committee gathered in executive session for a discussion which will determine whether the bill as it passed the house shall be presented to the senate without major change, drastically modified or scrapped in favor of some other plans.

Before the committee met, Senator Byrd (D-Va) wrote Secretary Morgenthau saying 11 huge corporations could escape all taxes under the house bill. He listed 29 others which he said might pay less than under existing tax laws.

He requested the treasury to supply him a list of all other corporations with incomes of $1,000,000 and more a year which might have a lighter tax bill if the house measure should be enacted.

Byrd, a member of the flance committee, expressed concern over any possibility of "giving these large corporations a greater advantage and perhaps a stranglehold over their present smaller competitiors."

(The tax bill, as passed by the house, is featured by a new type levy on corporation income, graduated according to the percentage of income withheld from dividend distribution. The tax would range up to 42 1-2 per cent on net income. The bill provides for the eventual repeal of existing corporate taxes, so that a corporation which distributed all its net income would pay no taxes).

The list of 11 "financially strong" corporations which, Byrd said, can "completely avoid taxation" by distributing their income as they did in 1934 follows:

American Telephone and Telegraph company; American Tobacco Company; American Smelting and Refining company; General Electric company; Goodyear Tire and Rubber company; International Harvester company; National Biscuit company; National Dairy Products company; Ohio Oil company; R. J. Reynolds Tobacco company; and Texas company.

Senator Byrd's letter contained a list of 13 companies which, he said, would pay less than 5 per cent under the administration program, as compared with 15 per cent under existing law, if they distributed profits in the same fashion as in 1934. The companies:

Air Reduction, Allied Chemical and Dye; Corn Products Refining; Curtis Publishing; E. I. DuPont; Firestone Tire and Rubber; General Foods; Great Western Sugar; Imperial Oil; Liggett and Myers Tobacco; Parke Davis; Pennsylvania Railroad and U. S. Smelting and Refining.

He said the following 16 would pay less than 10 per cent, instead of 15; American Can; Armour and Co., Eastman Kodak; General Motors; Great A. and P. Tea; International Shoe. J. C. Penney; Phillips Petroleum; Procter and Gamble; Socony-Vacuum; Standard Oil of California, Indiana and New Jersey; Texas Gulf Sulphur; United Fruit and F. W. Woolworth.

House Expected to Pass Bill Monday

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—The last of the session's major bills was ready today to move from the house to the senate, carrying with it an unsettled fight as to whether Secretary Ickes' public works administration should share in the handling of next year's relief funds.

Today's vote on the measure, which is a $2,364,229,712 bill carrying $1,425,000,000 to finance WPA after July 1, was only a formality. The house actually approved items in the appropriation Friday, but the roll calls were postponed until today.

The first vote on today's slate was on motion by Rep. Taber (R-NY) to send the bill back to committee with instructions to substitute his defeated amendment to supplant Harry Hopkins' Works Progress Administration with direct grants to states, locally administered by non-partisan boards. Twenty-five per cent local contributions also would be required under this plan.

Republicans demanded a record vote on this proposal, although they had no hope that it would pass.

The unsuccessful fight in the house to obtain funds for PWA is expected to be reviewed in the senate under the leadership of Senator Hayden (D-Ariz.), a member of the appropriations committee. Rep. Beiter (D-NY) headed a bloc which sought in vain to earmark part of the relief money for PWA.

Cabinet Changes By Mussolini Are Indicated Monday

By ANDRUE BERDING.
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, May 11.—(AP)—Political sources said today Premier Mussolini will make extensive changes in his cabinet in June.

It was indicated that Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Italian delegate to the League, will go to London as ambassador to take the place of Dino Grandi, present envoy, who will return to Rome as minister of foreign affairs, a portfolio now held by Il Duce himself.

These sources also indicated that Mussolini would give up three other cabinet posts, which he holds as minister, to promote his present under-secretaries. These posts and the present under-secretaries are:

War—Federico Baistrocchi.
Navy—Domenico Cavagnari.
Aviation—Giuseppe Valle.

This would be the first big change in government which Il Duce has made since 1933. During the period of preparations for war and the war itself he preferred to keep the cabinet unchanged.

He revised it slightly Jan. 24, 1935, retaining eight portfolios personally.

New Jersey Quads Had Sinking Spell But Later Rally

PASSIAC, N. J., May 11.—(AP)—The Jersey quadruplets—Frances, Frank, Felix and Ferdinand Kasper—had St. Mary's hospital staff worried for a time today when they took a sinking spell, but the tiny babies rallied quickly and soon recovered their former "encouraging" condition.

As proof of their recovery from the spell, the infants had their first human milk since birth. Dr. Frank F. Jani, the physician who delivered the babies Saturday, issued an emergency call for the milk when they started to sink. Enough was obtained locally to serve immediate needs, and arrangements for a regular supply was made with a New York City dispensary.

The infants were to receive a further feeding later in the day when a ten ounce supply of milk arrives from New York. The hospital said a police escort was rushing the milk here.

Dr. Jani was pleased when he saw how his charges rallied after the short-lived relapse.

The three-day old babies—Frances, Frank, Ferdinand and Felix—apparently weakened suddenly during the forenoon and lost their healthy color, hospital attaches said. Their temperatures dropped below normal.

Dr. Frank F. Jani, who delivered the quadruplets Saturday, issued a call for human milk. Through the co-operation of Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, a ten ounce supply was obtained from a dispensary in that city and was being rushed here.

Further details on the exact conditions of the babies were withheld at the hospital. The mother, Mrs. Emil Kasper, was reported recovering and apparently was unaware of the change in the babies' conditions.

The sudden change upset expections that the quadruplets had a "brighter" chance for life because of the way they had been responding to treatment and gaining weight on a medicine-dropper diet.

YOUNG SOUTHERNER HELD IN CONNECTION WITH BRUTAL MURDER

CHICAGO, May 11.—(AP)—A young southerner, his right hand knuckles larcerated and some of his clothing flecked with blood, was questioned today by officials investigating the brutal slaying of Mrs. Lillian Guild, 50-year-old connoisseur of colonial antiques.

Sergeant James Coleman said he picked up the youth, Raymond Furr, 22, of Mempuhis, Tenn., Saturday at his room in the Y. M. C. A. hotel—a block from the Y. W. C. AA. hotel where Mrs. Guild was beaten to death in a mysterious atack about 1 a. m. Saturday.

The sergeant reported Furr told him he scraped his hand in a fall and that the injury accounted for the crimso stains on a shirt, trousers and handkerchief in his room. But Coleman added:

'His knuckles are skinned badly but I don't see how he could have bled enough for them to have soaked his clothing so much."

Isaac Roy Hess, 22, who gave his home as near Memphis, was also picked up at the Y. M. C. A. lodgings. Both youths denied any knowledge of the Guild slaying.

ETHIOPIAN

empire by fascist Italy.

No decision was expected to be forthcoming on this question and and the still-pending Locarno dispute, league observers expecting the council to adjourn Wednesday without as yet making any decisions concerning Italy or Germany. The view prevailed however, that sanctions would not be lifted from Premier Mussolini's newly-proclaimed empire.

Il Duce was to make a strong stand at the council meeting, his envoy, Baron Pompeo Aloisi, being instructed to defend strongly the Italian move at annexation of the land from which the negus fled last week.

The British cabiet was called to hear reports from Foreign secretary Anthony Eden at Geneva and the ambassador to Rome, Sir Eric Drummong, on developments in the Ethiopian situation, so as to be able to formulate its policy regarding sanctions against Italy.

From his place of temporary refuge in Jerusalem, Emperor Haile Selassie once again asserted he has not given up his fight to win back the independence of his occupied land.

The king of kings said he had fled from Ethiopia to alleviate the havoc his presence would have brought to his people in the form of further Italian repressions.
